

ENGLISH WOMAN CLAIMED TO BE COMMON LAW WIFE

LETTERS TELL HOW CHARLES LLOYD PLANNED TO KEEP HIS FAMILIES APART.

LLOYD'S LETTERS IN COURT

How the Capitalist Maintained Two Families in Oakland.

Induced Daughter to Help Him Marry Third Wife.

When the case of Mrs. Elizabeth Lloyd vs. the executors of the will of the late Charles R. Lloyd to secure as the natural daughter of the deceased her share of the estate of her father, was resumed this morning in the Superior Court before Judge Pittsworth, the plaintiff took the stand and was supposed for cross-examination by Attorney M. C. Chapman was allowed to ask a few questions in continuation of the direct examination.

ENGAGED TO MARRY
Mr. Chapman brought out the fact that the complainant had engaged herself to marry the man Moffitt whose name has figured in the letters which have already appeared in the correspondence in the case published in this paper, and that this engagement was entered into on the strength of the promises of assistance made to plaintiff on the part of Lloyd. Subsequently Moffitt refused to come to this country and the engagement was broken off.

The cross-examination by Attorney Goodfellow was then commenced. Mrs. Lloyd testified that after coming to this city from England, she and her mother resided in the Market Street House and subsequently in the Davis Block on Washington and Eleventh streets and on Clay street.

MOVEMENTS OF FAMILY.
Witness then told of Lloyd and his wife and Mabel and Fred Lloyd going to reside at the corner of either Seventh or Eighth Avenue and East Sixteenth street, and later of Lloyd and his wife going to Santa Cruz where the divorce between them was granted. The movements about of the Lloyds in this city, San Francisco, Berkeley and other places were then detailed in response to questions, and were also the relations that existed between them and the plaintiff, and especially the number of times the latter had seen Lloyd and the manner and the places in which she had met him. The last time witness saw Lloyd was the day before he sailed for Japan. That was

THE LATE CHARLES LLOYD, IN VARIOUS STAGES OF HIS CAREER.
(From photographs shown in the Superior Court)

after Lloyd had been shot, and had returned on his recovery from the shooting to his home in Berkeley. Lloyd had sent for her to come to see him so that he could bid her goodbye.

HER DEMAND.
Witness then identified the demand she had made upon the executors of the will for recompense for services rendered to Lloyd. This set forth that Lloyd had promised to make her independent, to leave her two-fifteenths of the residue of the estate after giving one-third to his wife. Witness then demanded that the executors secure that amount for her. If that sum could not be secured the complainant said she would be willing to reduce the amount of the demand.

This was followed by the reading of a letter in reply by Attorney Goodfellow, written by that gentleman to the effect that he would forward the letter to the executors of the will, and at the same time suggesting to the complainant that she set forth the grounds upon which she based her demand.

In response to this letter, complainant prepared another statement which was also read by Mr. Goodfellow. This set forth all the grounds upon which the present suit is based, beginning with the publication of the bans of marriage between the mother of the complainant in Bristol England and closing with the promise of Lloyd to remember complainant in his will.

Among the features brought out was the fact that the complainant had broken off her engagement with Moffitt in England when Lloyd wrote to her and her mother that he wanted them to come out to this country and that he would provide a home for himself and them in California. A feature of the letter asking Mrs. Lloyd and her mother to come here was the insistence of Lloyd that she should not for a moment think of marrying before she came to California.

KEEP A SECRET.
The document specifically set forth that the complainant was to keep as a secret the relationship which had existed between Lloyd and her mother, and that she was to consider him as her father.

Attorney Goodfellow asked for any statement which Lloyd made when complainant and Lloyd met in this country.

Regarding the night of her arrival in Oakland, after Lloyd had met her at the depot and escorted her and her mother to the Market Street House, witness said:

Mr. Lloyd told me that I was a good girl and that he was very glad to have me here.

"You had been here but a few minutes then?" interposed Mr. Goodfellow.

KISSED PLAINTIFF.
"He had met me more than an hour before that," said the witness, "at the depot. He had been with us about an hour and a half. He said that he had every confidence in me and that I was to treat him as a father. He kissed me, and I told him I would do as he asked. I liked him very much, and said I would do everything he told me. He said he would set me up in business, and that he would make me independent."

SHERIFF IS ON A NEW TRAIL

Julia Ward Assumes Male Attire to Make Her Escape.

SALINAS, October 19.—Sheriff Nesbitt left for Metz, about fifteen miles south of here, last night on horseback in response to a telephone message from Supervisor W. H. Metz, telling him that a man and woman answering both the descriptions and photographs published in the San Francisco papers of Milton Franklin Andrews and Julia Ward had left the train Monday night, and after a short stay in Metz, during which the woman had donned male attire, they had started up the Chalona valley.

The crew was taken up at Metz and Sheriff Nesbitt started in pursuit of the pair. As he had not been heard from at his office late this evening, and as he notified his deputies before leaving that if the crew was a tangible one he would follow it, the supposition is that the couple are the ones wanted.

BERKELEY, Oct. 19.—Chief Vollmer has not yet heard from Sheriff Nesbitt, but he expects to get a message from him this afternoon. He believes that the Sheriff has struck a good clew and that it may lead to the capture of the criminals.

WOMAN'S JEWELS ARE SOLD

MRS. CASSIE L. CHADWICK'S VALUABLES PUT UP AT AUCTION

CLEVELAND, October 19.—Nine parcels of jewelry formerly owned by Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick seized by the customs authorities for non-payment of duties were sold at auction in the United States Marshal's office today.

The total amount bid was $2217 considerably less than the appraised value. The largest piece was a ring with a diamond setting weighing slightly over seven karats which was sold for $665. The appraised value was $800.

EXPERTS PRESENT OPINIONS

Give Testimony About Bennington's Boilers at the Court-Martial.

MARE ISLAND, October 19.—At today's session of the Young court-martial the re-direct examination of Commander Ransom was concluded. He gave it as his opinion that from the condition of the crown sheets of the middle furnaces and combustion chamber and tube sheets after the explosion on the Bennington, there was no evidence of low water in the boiler.

There was nothing to indicate overpressure, the rivets were not in good condition and the points were very short when driven. An examination of the tubes did not indicate leaks which would occur from over pressure.

A careful examination of the safety valves of boiler B after it was removed at San Diego gave no evidence that it would lift at the pressure set.

The remainder of his evidence was of a technical nature.

HEAVY SNOW STORM.

PRESIDENTIAL PARTY GIVEN A WARM WELCOME AT RALEIGH

People in Dixie Pleased to See President Roosevelt.

Tells of the Growth of Country and Makes Suggestions.

Shippers Have Rights That Railroad Companies Must Respect.

RALEIGH, N. C., October 19.—With the music of the band and many cheers as greeting to him, the President of the United States, in special train pulled into the Union depot at Raleigh today promptly on time. A reception committee of one hundred citizens and Lieutenant-Governor Winston welcomed the President to the State in the enforced absence of Governor Glenn, who is in Greensboro at the funeral of his brother.

AT THE DEPOT.
There were thousands of people about the depot as the Presidential party came to the station. There was a volley of cheers which rose again and again as the President passed on the street in his carriage, bowing to right and left, standing and waving his hands in pleasant greeting to the little children. Mrs. Roosevelt had a bunch of bridal roses presented by William the young son of the late Lieutenant William E. Shapp, and by Worth Bagley Daniels, nephew of Ensign Worth Bagley, of the Spanish-American war and son of Josephus Daniels, Democratic national committeeman from North Carolina.

IN SENATE CHAMBER.
A visit to the Senate chamber was for the purpose of having the President, on behalf of the North Carolina Literary and Historical Society present a handsome $500 gold loving cup, studded with North Carolina gems, to John C. McNeill of Charlotte, as a reward for having produced the best piece of literature in the State during the year. This cup is given by Mrs. Lindsay Patterson of Winston.

President Roosevelt was introduced by ex-Governor Aycock.

STORES DECORATED.
In the carriage with the President were Mrs. Roosevelt, Lieutenant-Governor Winston and Secretary Loeb. About the President's carriage, in addition to five secret service men, were a special detail of the staff of Governor Glenn. The residences, stores and public buildings were profusely decorated and the streets were roped from curb to curb. Both sidewalks were jammed with people while every available window and piazza was occupied by thousands who cheered from time to time. The procession passed to the State capitol where in the Senate chamber were waiting delegations of many ladies and gentlemen. Supreme Court judges and others. Here all the party was presented to President and Mrs. Roosevelt.

ON THE ROAD.
Immediately after the presentation the line of march was resumed to the fair grounds where the entire distance being thronged with people, who wildly applauded the President and Mrs. Roosevelt. Particularly pleased was Mr. Roosevelt, when on the handsome lawn of Dr. C. W. Burkett, of the State Agricultural and Mechanical College, he saw a big picture of himself thus inscribed:

"Welcome to our President, who dares to do right, who dares to be true, who dares to do that which no other can do."

There were nearly 40,000 people in the fair grounds when the President arrived. The President was introduced by Lieutenant Governor Winston and began his remarks with a pleasant reference to the occasion and noted that he had been met at the station by an officer in Confederate uniform (Major Henry A. London) of Pittsboro) who said: "I am glad to meet my President. I fought in the Confederate army for four years wearing the gray, but now my son is in the United States navy fighting for our flag." (Applause.)

PRESIDENT'S SPEECH.
President Roosevelt spoke as follows:
I am glad to be here at the capital of North Carolina to have a chance to greet so many of the sons and daughters of your great State. I congratulate you upon the great industrial activity shown in your commonwealth. An industrial activity which, to mention but one thing, has placed this State second only to one other in the number of its textile factories. You are showing in practical fashion your realization of the truth that there must be a foundation of material well being in order that any community may make real and rapid progress. More and more you are giving care and attention to education, and education means the promotion not only of industry, but of that good citizenship which rests upon individual rights and upon the recognition by each individual that he has duties as well as rights—in other words, of that good citizenship which rests upon moral integrity and intellectual freedom.

"And now I want to say a word to you on a special subject in which all the country is concerned, but in which North Carolina has a special concern. The preservation of the forests is vital to the welfare of every country. One of the most obvious duties which our generation owes to the generations that are to come after us is to preserve the existing forests."

MEMORY IS STOLEN IN JAIL

After a Night in the City Hall Youth Forgets His Name.

Charles Drogout, a young French boy, secured lodging at the City Prison last night, but this morning was unable to remember anything. He does not appear to know where he is or even what his name is.

The police are much puzzled by the case and have called in Health Officer Ewer into consultation. It is thought that possibly hunger and exhaustion have temporarily affected the young man's mind.

He is unable to speak English and last night, through an interpreter, stated that he had only been in America for a few days.

PURITY CONFERENCE IS AFTER MANY REFORMS

LACROSSE, Wis., Oct. 19.—The National Purity Conference today decided to effect a national organization of the societies now known as the National Purity Association, the Northwestern Purity Association, the National Christian Alliance for the Promotion of Purity and the American Purity Alliance.

Officers were elected as follows: President, B. S. Steadwell, Lacrosse, Wisconsin; Secretary, Sidney C. Kendall, Long Beach, Cal.; Vice-President, Dr. Katherine Bushnell, Oklahoma City.

The national convention of 1906 will be held in Chicago. The resolutions petition the President of the United States to investigate the conditions relating to alleged international traffic in girls for immoral purposes and to take steps to stop it, favor giving illegitimate children where their parentage is known, the right to use the name of their fathers and to inherit their estates the same as legitimate children, favor the prevention of divorce by teaching "better methods" tending toward scientific and spiritual marriage; denounces polygamy in Utah and declares a vile form of polygamous relationship is practiced in many of the States where monogamous marriage is the rule, favor the employment of women in public offices and the extension of the suffrage of women.

UNKNOWN MAN MANGLED BY A TRAIN

STOCKTON, October 19.—An unknown man between thirty-five and forty years of age, apparently a laborer or a tramp, met a horrible death early this morning on the Southern Pacific railroad tracks. He was evidently trying to beat his way to San Francisco on the brake beam of a freight train, and probably lost his balance. One foot was cut off one hand and the legs were horribly crushed. The arms caught in the running gear and the body was dragged six blocks before it was dropped. The body is awaiting identification at the morgue. The deceased has a red moustache and black hair with a slight tinge of gray. A steamer ticket dated the 17th indicated that he came from San Francisco recently.

JUST BAD BECAUSE SHE CANNOT HELP IT

"I am just bad because I can't help it" was the way Hattie McHorter, a fifteen-year-old runaway girl from Penn's Grove near Santa Rosa explained her case this morning at the detention ward of the Receiving Hospital, where she is being held pending the making of arrangements to return her to her home by the Salvation Army people.

She was unable to live happily with her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Albert McHorter of Penn's Grove, and they finally got her a place at the Beulah Home. She had not been there a great while when she ran away with Gertrude McLaughlin. They tramped the hills and finally came upon a camp where A. T. Peterson and his family were camping. He took them in. Then they met a plumber by the name of Jack Scott and he brought them into town and got them a room on San Pablo avenue, and here they were arrested by the police.

It is expected that the McHorter girl will be returned to her home in the next day or two. She says, however, that she will run away again and even if she is put in a reform school she will be bad, for she says she can't help it.

misbehavior at the hands of the stage manager, the depositions of a dozen members of the company were filed yesterday.

Miss Ida Brugel deposed that she had seen stage managers throw girls off the stage in San Francisco theaters. All the depositions submitted were strongly in favor of the plaintiff.

LOVE FOR ERRING MAIDEN

Mother Goes to the Side of Her Daughter,
Ethel Cook.

Mrs. Mary Ross, mother of 16-year-old Ethel Cook, the young Sunday school teacher of the First Free Baptist Church, who was enticed from home by Trustee Henry A. Logan, has left for Medford, Oregon, to claim her daughter, who is detained there at the present time.

The mother will arrive in the Oregon town a few hours after Captain of Police Wilson, who left with regulation papers to bring the renegade trustee back to face a deserted wife and child, and also the law.

Mrs. Ross, before she left, expressed her faith in her child and refuses to believe that her daughter fled with Logan for any other reason than her religious emotions were worked on to such an extent that she was not responsible.

Logan, whose maudlin confessions of love for the 16-year-old girl are sickening, may not be prosecuted on a felony charge, as his young companion left with him voluntarily, and a charge of kidnapping cannot be upheld. He will be prosecuted on a charge of enticing a minor child away from home, however.

The deserted wife may swear to an additional complaint and thus give the defaulting trustee an opportunity of standing trial on at least two charges.

Logan's attachments are said to have been many, and that his flight with Ethel Cook is not the first time that he eloped with a mere child.

PROBING PERJURY CHARGE

Interest in the Investigation of Insurance Matters Increasing.

NEW YORK, October 19.—Richard A. McCurdy, president of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, made the following statement today:

"I have not intimated that I intend to resign as president of the Mutual Life Insurance Company and I have no intention of so doing. I was elected president until June 7, next, and nothing can or will drive me out."

NEW YORK, October 19.—The possibility of an arrest for perjury in the evidence given before the legislative investigating committee increased the interest in today's session of that committee.

Expectation of an arrest grew out of the action of the committee yesterday when Assistant District Attorney Rand, a conclusion of the testimony of George J. Plunkitt, who had declared he did not sign a voucher for $901 for legal expenses, to which his name was attached. The voucher had been paid by the Mutual Life Insurance Company.

This evidence was followed by testimony showing that other vouchers for legal expenses had been used to collect funds from the Mutual Life Insurance Company for the maintenance of a house at Albany, where the Mutual Life Insurance Company's agent was quartered, and where members of the legislative insurance committee were entertained. Further disclosures on this line were anticipated today.

MCCURDY TESTIFIES.

When the hearing was resumed today Richard A. McCurdy, president of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, was recalled to testify to the relations of the Mutual with the trust companies which were being investigated when the committee adjourned yesterday.

A list of bonds and stocks owned by the Mutual Life Company June 3, 1905, was presented for identification, and then the relations of the Mutual Life Insurance Company with the United States Mortgage and Trust Company were taken up.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company was interested in the original acquisition of the charter of this company, Mr. McCurdy said, but not exclusively, because it was desirous to have other corporate interests interested. The daily transactions of the company were not influenced by the Mutual Life Insurance Company, although the majority of its directors were representing the insurance company.

WAS NO RISK.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company was glad to take the debentures of the United States Mortgage and Trust Company against its mortgages, because there was really no risk in them, with the Mutual's large deposits.

Witness did not think that the insurance companies were led into purely speculative transactions because of connections with subsidiary companies. The Mutual had a substantial participation in the Brooklyn Wharf and Warehouse Company, and had it not had some interest in the United States Mortgage and Trust Company would never have had an opportunity to invest in it. The Brooklyn Wharf and Warehouse Company went into the hands of a receiver.

Other securities in which the Mutual invested by reason of its connection with the United States Mortgage and Trust Company were those of the Washington Traction and Electric Company in 1901. Mr. McCurdy said he was not conversant with that matter.

James Timpon, assistant treasurer of the Mutual, was called to the stand. He described the organization and the conduct of the Brooklyn Wharf and Warehouse Company, of which the Mutual Life Insurance Company took securities amounting to $2,500,000. It sold a portion of these and bought new securities of the same company, making a profit thereby. The Brooklyn Company was re-organized in 1901 because it was not paying its expenses and dividends, and its securities were taken by the New York Dock Company.

ITS HOLDINGS.
Mr. Timpon said the Mutual still held about $2,500,000 of the stock of the New York Dock Company, having increased its holding 10 per cent when the company reorganized. He also stated that the Mutual participated in the syndicate of the Washington Traction and Electric Company, which was formed to take over electric light and street railway properties in Washington, D. C. This company was afterwards re-organized as the Washington Railway and Electric Company. The Mutual withdrew $2,000,000 of stock from the syndicate at 98 and interest. Then in June, 1903, the Mutual bought $1,000,000 worth of the Washington Company's stock from the United States Mortgage and Trust Company at 75 1-2.

Timpon is vice-president and director of the latter company. When asked what he made this investment when the bonds had fallen 15 points within a year, Mr.

EXPRESS THIEF IS CAUGHT

MAKES A CLEAN BREAST OF ROBBERY TO THE POLICE.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Oct. 19.—Edward G. Cunliffe, the Adams Express Company's employee who disappeared from Pittsburg with $101,000 in cash, was arrested here today. He made a confession and expressed his willingness to return at once to Pittsburg. He declared that the money which he took was intact and that it could be restored, but he declined to tell until his return to Pittsburg where it is hidden. On his person when arrested was found $250 in cash.

In the presence of Superintendent Birmingham, Detective Thornhill, Henry Curtis, the local agent of the Adams Express Company, and Captain Arnold of the Bridgeport detective force, Cunliffe admitted that he took the money.

SORRY FOR THEFT.

"Five minutes after I took the money I was sorry," said Cunliffe, "but it was too late to do anything. What can you expect from a man getting a salary of only $65 a month and handling thousands of dollars a day."

He was tempted and I fell. I have handled larger sums and remember once when I had $250,000 in cash. I was tempted then, but I thought it over and decided to be honest."

The robbery for which Cunliffe is wanted in Pittsburg was committed on the night of October 2.

BOLD THEFT OF DIAMONDS

JEWELS VALUED AT $10,000 STOL-EN FROM A NEW YORK HOTEL.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The robbery of diamonds valued at $10,000 from the wife of George W. Hoadley at the Buckingham Hotel last Tuesday evening was announced by the police today.

George W. Hoadley is a brother of Joseph W. Hoadley, the promoter and financier.

The robbery occurred while Mr. and Mrs. Hoadley were at the theater. A former ball boy of the Buckingham and a waiter were arrested in connection with the robbery.

BERKELEY BOYS PLACED ON TRIAL

Three youths, charged by the secret service agents of the Southern Pacific Company with breaking into cars of the company out at Berkeley for the purpose of stealing a keg of beer, were taken from the County Jail this morning for their preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Edgar.

They are Robert Morris, 15 years of age, living at 1341 University avenue; Frank Sullivan, 18, living at 1319 Delaware street, and James Farrell, 14 years of age, living at 1216 Francisco street.

It is stated by the police that the youths of that part of the town are in the habit of breaking the seals on the cars and going into them and taking eatables and drinkables, and it is alleged in the case of these three that they were found in the act of breaking a seal on a car containing a quantity of beer.

New is the season fast approaching when the open-spender will be mightier than the law.

It isn't right to judge a man by the company his wife's folks inflict upon him.

Dainty Foods Demand It

IN EVERY Receipt that calls for cream of tartar, soda, or baking powder, use the Royal Baking Powder. Better results will be obtained because of the absolute purity and great leavening strength of the Royal. It will make the food lighter, sweeter, of finer flavor, more digestible and wholesome. It is always reliable and uniform in its work.

Alum and phosphate baking powders—some of them sold at the same price and some of them cheaper—will make neither dainty nor wholesome food.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

CIGARETTES ARE PROHIBITED

SMOKERS IN SEATTLE FIRE DEPARTMENT MUST QUIT OR RESIGN.

SEATTLE, Oct. 19.—Cigarette smokers in the Fire Department must quit the practice or turn in their resignations. That is the ultimatum delivered by Fire Chief Cook. The order was issued and went into effect several days ago, but was not given to the public until today.

The men affected by the new rule took it silently but not with pleasure, for it is claimed that many of them have used the dangerous paper rolls so much that they find it hard to quit on such short notice. Others say it's a good thing for it will help them to swear off.

For the last few days the absence of the ill-smelling cigarette smoke about the various engine houses in the city has been noticeable. Firemen killing time lounging in chairs at the front of engine houses spinning yarns and pulling away at the little paper wrapped "pills" as they are called, are seen no more. Stained fingers where the lung-destroying smokers are held, are disappearing and already there is a reformation shown among the fire laddies that apparently is lasting.

NO SMOKING IN UNIFORM.
The cigarette smoking order is not all. Chief Cook has decreed that no member of the Fire Department while on duty and in uniform shall be allowed to smoke on the streets or in any public place or in going to or from a fire. Pipes and cigars are permitted inside the engine houses or in the dormitories where the men are not subjected to the gaze of a criticizing public. In "uniform" means that no part of the uniform shall be worn when a fireman smokes on the street or in public places.

To the ordinary person this order would not appear to be so hard to obey were it not for the fact that a fireman is not permitted to take off his uniform for sufficient cause, unless permission is given by the chief assistant chief or one of the captains. In other words, a fireman is on duty all day, every day, including Sunday, unless he is excused.

The chief of the department from the chief down, Chief Cook will obey it himself. The office forces, even although they be not in uniform, will not be permitted to smoke on duty.

SALOON LOITERING FORBIDDEN.
The drinking habits of some of the members of the department, also led to the amendment. No fireman will be permitted to enter or be around premises where intoxicating liquors are sold while he is in uniform or on duty. No intoxicating liquors will be allowed in or about any engine house or in any place where no member will be allowed to absent himself from duty as the result of drinking. A violation means immediate suspension or dismissal from the service without trial and without trial.

Before putting into effect the new orders, which are designated as amendments to Rules 103 and 109, they were submitted to Mayor Ballinger and Chairman Randolph of the Civil Service Commission. Both of these officers immediately approved them.

While the cigarette rule has not, the others mentioned have always been on the order book. They are reiterated for the purpose of showing that they will be rigidly enforced.

Chief Cook looks upon cigarette smoking with horror. He says it is an extremely despicable habit and he believes it works great physical and mental injury to any man who uses them. He wants to make the members of the Seattle Fire Department a class of men who can be looked up to and he issued the order for the good of the individual as much as to avoid criticism of the public.

PLEADS GUILTY.

Ebenezer Johnson, accused of felonious conduct toward his seven-year-old niece, pleaded guilty to a charge of battery this morning before Police Judge Samuel and will come up for sentence tomorrow.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED
By local applications, says the doctor. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. This tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Cases of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous membrane. It cannot be cured by local applications. It is cured by Catarrh Cure, sold by Dr. J. C. ELLERY'S BAND COMING.
On next Sunday there will be two concerts of Ellery's Band at the Madonnino theater, with both a matinee and evening performance, and two very select and distinct programmes.

The news that this great band will be here again is certainly welcome news to all lovers of good music. In fact, it is a revelation. This band has played to large and enthusiastic audiences throughout all the large cities of the middle West during the past season, and has established a great reputation. To those who heard this great band last season there is no need of comment, the names alone carry with it the prestige of being a top notcher.

The sale of seats for the two concerts is now ready, and judging from the present indications and inquiry large houses are expected.

MORE YELLOW FEVER.
NEW ORLEANS, October 19.—New cases of yellow fever since 5 p. m. Wednesday, 3; total cases to date, 2,342; deaths, nine; totals deaths, 345. There have been no deaths reported in the past twenty-four hours.

DIVORCE IS GRANTED.

An interlocutory decree of divorce was granted Mary Kidwell from Edna Kidwell, on the ground of his willful desertion, by Judge Melvin.

MISSING GIRLS FORMER BANKER ROUND-UP OF LOCATED INDICTED YOUNGSTERS

TWO RUNAWAY MAIDENS ARE CAPTURED BY THE POLICE. CHARGED WITH EMBEZZLEMENT BY FEDERAL GRAND JURY. GUARDIAN TO BE APPOINTED FOR SIX HOMELESS CHILDREN.

Hattie McHorter, aged 15 years, and Minnie Williams, aged 16 years, were taken into custody yesterday by Chief of Police Hodgkins on the charge of being runaways from the Beulah Home. The young ladies are described as being incorrigible and measures for their future detention until they are of age will be taken.

Two weeks ago the two girls grew tired of the restraint at the Beulah home and decided that they would make their own way in the world. The police were informed of their disappearance, but it was not until yesterday afternoon that the missing girls were located.

The McHorter girl was found on the water front in San Francisco, while the Williams girl was discovered in a rooming house at the corner of Sixteenth street and San Pablo avenue in this city.

The younger girl, Hattie, was sent to the Beulah Home from Santa Rosa, where her actions led to her being taken into custody. Minnie, the older girl, comes from Vacaville and was placed in the Beulah Home by her father.

NEW MINING COMPANY.

Articles of incorporation of the Highland Lake Mining Company were filed with the County Clerk today. The directors are George E. Reed, Harry E. Reed, Alice F. Todd, Henry L. Halsey, and Walter S. Reed. The capital stock is $1,000,000, and each of the five directors have subscribed $500 apiece.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., October 19.—W. B. Smith, former president of the Western National Bank, was indicted today by the Federal Grand Jury, charged with making false entries, misappropriation of the funds of a national bank, and embezzlements. Smith's whereabouts is not known.

The Western National Bank was closed several weeks ago by the Federal authorities, but re-opened last Monday under the presidency of T. L. Jefferson.

MEEK ESTATE HAS BEEN DIVIDED

The large estate left by the late Wm. Meek, lying on both sides of the county road between Hayward and San Lorenzo and comprising hundreds of acres, has been divided by the four children, Harry W. Meek, Wm. E. Meek, Susan Meek, and Ethel Meek, who have been divided the estate into four equal parts. The division was made by the County Recorder, giving to each one his and her share of the estate.

There is to be a round-up of youngsters now in the charge of Helen Swift, secretary of the California Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, and this morning petitions were filed in the case of six homeless ones asking the court to appoint her their legal guardian. The children are Ernest Louk, 10 years of age; Rosa, Marie and Joseph Alameda, whose ages are not definitely known, but who are about 17, 14 and 10 years of age; Agnes Gray, 11 years of age; Louise Broeder, 11 years of age.

Attorney Herbert Breed, who represents Miss Swift in the matter, stated this morning that most of these children were abandoned waifs who had no homes and the society was simply trying to provide homes for them and in order to do this has to have legal control of them.

In the case of the Alameda children, an effort is to be made to get them away from influences that are believed to be bad and there may be a contest over the guardianship proceedings of these three.

APPRAISEMENT OF CARMANY ESTATE

The inventory and appraisement of the estate of the late Cyrus W. Carmany was filed this morning by John McVey, Clarence Reed and Thomas O'Donnell in which they show that his estate consists of property valued at $28,112.35 and consists of a gold watch valued at $15.15; a ring, valued at $10.00; a diamond ring, valued at $10.00; 50 shares of the capital stock of the Savings and Loan Society, $4,700; 27 shares of the Union Sugar Company, $884; a note on Newcomb Lumber for $229; a due bill of Naboth Allen, $100; one of C. P. Rowland for $20; a piece of real estate situated in the Military Tract valued at $17,700; another piece on Twenty-first avenue near Twenty-fourth street valued at $1,300.

LEFT TO SISTER.
The will of the late Harriet R. Brigham has been filed for probate and consists of property valued at about $100 which is left by deceased to Mrs. I. H. Allen her sister.

FINAL ACCOUNT.
The first and final account in the matter of the guardianship of Catherine E. Coughlin filed by Thomas E. Coughlin as guardian shows that there has been received the sum of $2,725.35 and that she was paid this entire amount upon her last birthday when she reached her majority.

N. S. G. W. DANCE.
The members of Brooklyn Parlor, No. 251, N. S. G. W., have completed all arrangements for their sixteenth annual ball, which will be given in Twelfth and Franklin streets, tomorrow evening. This parlor has a membership of 126 and, therefore, the committee of arrangements expects a large crowd.

PRINCE CHARLES WILL ACCEPT

HE WILL ACCEPT CROWN OF NORWAY IF ELECTED.

OSLO, Oct. 19.—An important dispatch was received late last night from the Norwegian Premier, M. Michaelson, at Christiania, notifying the Danish Court that a full agreement had been reached by the members of the Norwegian government on the advisability of prompt settlement of the throne question by a resolution of the Storting.

The Danish Ministerial Council was immediately summoned, the ministers sat for two hours and it was announced this morning that the Danish Court was ready to abandon the idea of a plebiscite and that Prince Charles of Denmark was willing to accept the crown of Norway when elected by a majority of the Storting.

OAKLAND COURT NO. 6, T. B. H.

There was a good attendance at the meeting last Monday evening to witness the degree team perform its work. One candidate was successfully launched, and from the way applications are coming in, it shows that everybody is interested in the growth of Court No. 6. Chairman Brother A. Ralston Jr. of the entertainment committee reported that the coming entertainment will surpass anything yet given by the court. Some of the best talent the city affords has been secured for the occasion. Members and friends will kindly take notice of the date, November 10th.

TELLS OF AFFAIRS IN ARMY

Annual Report Shows an Increase of the Courtmartial.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The annual report of General George B. Davis, Judge Advocate General of the Army, shows that of the commissioned officers tried during the last year by general court-martial, thirty-five were convicted and thirteen acquitted.

Three cases and 4293 enlisted men were convicted, while 356 men were acquitted.

The total number of trials before general court-martial of 4800 cases shows an increase of 561 cases over last year. This increase is mainly due to the fact that a large number of deserters have been apprehended and brought to trial, the number of convictions for desertion being 1478 this year, an increase of 440. This gain is chiefly due to the increase of the reward paid to all civil officers for the apprehension of deserters, including greater vigilance on their part.

The number of men sentenced to dishonorable discharge was 2529.

MOB OF PEOPLE MOVES A POSTOFFICE

RENO, Nev., Oct. 19.—In defiance of the laws of the United States, a mob consisting of a couple of hundred persons gathered at the town of Sparks, four miles east of here, at 9:30 o'clock last night and by force tore the fixtures and lock boxes from the postoffice building, piled packages, letters, papers, stamps and other Government property into two wagons and carted them to what most of the citizens of the railroad town believe is a better location in what is known as the Courtland building, about a quarter of a mile nearer the center of the town.

Postmaster Charles Bemer today received notification that he had been appointed to the office to succeed T. J. Jones, who at once began to prepare to turn over the property to his successor in two weeks.

Neither of the postmasters are reported to have been with the mob tonight. The matter is unique in that this is the first instance reported when the people have refused to await orders from the Government before moving Government property. It is not reported whether arrests will be made. The location of the office has long been a bone of contention between residents of different sections of the town.

COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF.

TOKIO, October 19.—General Oshima, whose promotion from Lieutenant General was announced yesterday, has been appointed commander-in-chief of the garrison of Liaotung peninsula.

PRINCE TO TAKE A TRIP

WILL GO TO INDIA ON A TOUR FOR SIX MONTHS.

LONDON, October 19.—The Prince and Princess of Wales started on their six months' tour of India today. King Edward, Queen Alexandra, the members of the family and the Cabinet Ministers bade them farewell at the railroad station.

The Prince and Princess of Wales are going overland to Genoa, Italy, where they will embark on the British battleship Renow, which is due to arrive at Bombay, November 9. They will stay in India until March, visiting the principal cities and native States and receiving the chiefs and princes on behalf of King Edward. The exchange of ceremonial presents will be dispensed with, and consequently no presents will be accepted by the Prince and Princess while on their tour.

The departure of Lord Curzon of Kedleston, the viceroy who resigned August 20, owing to the bitter feeling between the viceroy and Lord Kitchener, the commander-in-chief of the forces in India, and who will be succeeded by the Earl of Minto, was postponed in view of the fact that King Edward desired Lord Curzon to remain and officially welcome the Prince and Princess of Wales.

NOW AFFILIATED WITH NATIONAL BODY

CINCINNATI, October 19.—The members of the administrative council of the National Metal Trades Association have endorsed every detail of the merger of their organization with the National Founders' Association, and last night adjourned after empowering the committee which has charge of the preliminary details to bring the merger to an actuality.

The amalgamation, if completed, promises to remove the headquarters to Chicago. Through the amalgamation about twenty strong organizations become affiliated with the national body and vested in it a certain amount of jurisdiction over each.

SCHOOL TRUSTEE HAS RESIGNED

The resignation of J. B. King as trustee of the Redwood School district has been received at the County Superintendent's office. This makes the second vacancy in the Board of Trustees there and two will be appointed in the near future. The resignations are the result of removal from the district by two of the members.

SCANDAL IN BANK FAILURE

Prominent Men Permitted to Speculate With Funds.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 19.—The investigation of the affairs of the Enterprise National Bank, Allegheny City, Pa., is making good progress. Far into last night and the early hours of today John B. Cunningham, National Bank Examiner, who was appointed receiver of the institution, pending his investigation, assisted by a large clerical force, labored steadily in an effort to unravel the extent of the bank's financial embarrassment. The developments following the tragedy and closing of the bank have been startling, involving as they do the names of several prominent citizens who have been active in State politics.

FUNDS FOR ROAD. According to President Gwynner, the bank, through Cashier Clarke, has furnished most of the funds used to float the Santa Fe Central Railroad and the Pennsylvania Development Company, in which former State Senators W. H. Andrews and Arthur Kennedy, and Francis J. Torrance, were deeply interested, together with Cashier Clarke.

The two projects failed open. Former Senator Arthur Kennedy is president of the Development Company, and former Senator W. H. Andrews is president of the other, Francis J. Torrance is heavily interested in both concerns, and his confidential man, W. H. Hagan, is secretary of both companies. T. Lee Clarke, the dead cashier of the Enterprise, was treasurer of both companies, and the bank was the custodian of their bonds, which were held as security for the loans. Personal notes of the promoters are also reported to be among the additional securities furnished the bank.

NEVER GOT A CENT.

Former Senator Andrews denies the statement of President Gwynner and says he never got a cent from the bank. Mr. Torrance is ill, and Secretary Hagan, speaking for him, also denied that he had been a borrower. Former Senator Kennedy is en route to this city and is expected some time today. Upon reaching here, a number of the directors will be called and it is said a complete statement of the condition of the companies connected with the bank will be made. Since the closing of the bank it has developed that the United States Government and State officers have been looking into the affairs of the institution, and particularly, it was said, to make an investigation of the statement recently made by Homer L. Gault, prohibition candidate for Supreme Judge, relative to the accepting of money from the State with the understanding that certain politicians would have the benefit of loans.

STATE IS SAFE.

W. B. Ridgley, Comptroller of the Currency, was in Pittsburgh two weeks ago, and last week John A. Berkley, State Commissioner of Banking, spent several days in this city. Berkley left Pittsburgh last Thursday and Morrison departed Friday. They are said to have had conferences with several Republican politicians.

It is said that the State will lose nothing by the closing of the Enterprise National Bank, as the State funds are insured by indemnity bonds furnished the State Treasurer by the directors of the bank, the Mercantile Trust Company of Pittsburgh, and the United States Fidelity and Guarantee Company of Baltimore.

National Bank Examiner Cunningham, when here today, said it was too early for him to be able to say anything as to the bank's condition. He said from the last report of the books the bank had a large number of small depositors. The solvency or insolvency of the bank, Mr. Cunningham declared, could only be determined after the books had been closed up and the balances taken off. It would also depend somewhat on the nature of the securities that were held by the bank for the loans it had made.

BANK CASHIER IN BAD LIGHT

EVIDENCE NOT STRONG ENOUGH TO SHOW HE WAS IN LEAGUE WITH THIEVES.

WILLISTON, N. D., Oct. 19.—W. H. Denny, cashier of the First National Bank, who was arrested on a charge of having received stolen horses, was discharged yesterday because of a lack of sufficient evidence to warrant holding the accused. Denny, it was alleged, was disposing of horses which an organized gang of horse thieves in eastern Montana and northwestern Dakota were stealing from farmers.

MISSIONARY MEETING.

WORCESTER, Mass., October 19.—At the annual meeting today of the American Missionary Association, in this city, addresses were delivered by representatives of the American Board, the Congregational Educational Society, the Congregational Church Building Society, the Congregational Home Missionary Society and the Congregational Sunday School and Publishing Society.

For street wear this season the hat must match the gown. If the wearer is to be considered well dressed, but for evening the black hat, preferably of velvet, seems to be the favorite. As to colors, one has only to look at the fall lines of dress goods to know what colors are to lead in the millinery world. Greens, browns, reds, blues and grays are shown in such a variety of shades that it is next to impossible to fix on one as the favorite.

DECLARES BOYCOTT A BLUFF

Congressman Kahn Gives His Views on Chinese Question.

SEATTLE, October 19.—That there is wide divergence of opinion among statesmen in regard to the boycott of American goods by Chinese and in reference to the exclusion law, is evident by statements made by two well-known national legislators now visiting Seattle.

Representative Julius Kahn of California says the boycott is a bluff and that the exclusion law should be rigidly enforced.

Senator Nathan B. Scott of West Virginia is just as positive that the boycott is a serious menace to American commerce and that the exclusion law should be liberally modified.

This alleged Chinese boycott on American goods is stuff and nonsense. The entire scheme is worked by a certain set of scheming Oriental politicians who are working this deal for their own personal ends. If it were policy to do so, I could tell their names. The boycott is not nearly as strong as reports would indicate. China, through a certain set of her leaders, is merely bluffing. That is all there is to it. Sometimes a bluff wins. It won't, however, in this case.

With the foregoing emphatic declarations, Representative Kahn settled back in his big easy chair at the Washington Hotel, and proceeded to run his fingers through his wealth of bushy white hair.

Congressman and Mrs. Kahn arrived in Seattle yesterday afternoon. He is here solely as attorney in the interests of clients, but when he had the opportunity to do so, he could not resist the temptation to give "this alleged boycott" a hard rap.

LEADER OF EXCLUSION FORCES.

Congressman Kahn, be it known, is the most ardent advocate in Congress of a Chinese exclusion law in Congress at the present time. He is head and shoulders above everyone else when it comes to fighting the Orientals. He has spent years studying the question, hence his remarks are always interesting. Continuing, he said:

"As I stated before, this boycott talk was all sprung by a set of Chinese politicians, the majority of whom have spent some time in the United States, either on private or government business. They hope by this method to induce Uncle Sam to open her gates and allow a flood of coolie labor to enter this country. We don't want that brand of cattle. They are a menace to our Government. In that I do not speak alone of the Chinese. We don't want the 'coolies' from any country. Yet we are getting them every day.

"Those kind of people have an utter contempt for law. Wherever they go, they form a nest of crime. The Government will never be safe while that menace is in existence. It is true, we people in San Francisco find the Chinese good house servants, but that is because they are trained in this country. When a Chinese first lands he knows nothing about being a servant. Further, he is inclined to be dishonest. Keep out the Chinese, is my cry. We can't afford to let them bluff us at this stage of the game. And that is all they are doing."

SENATOR SCOTT'S OPINION.

"The Chinese boycott on American goods is stronger today than it has been at any time since its inception. The leaders in that Oriental country are doing everything they can to spoil trade with Uncle Sam. They are succeeding. Unless drastic steps are taken to appease them, our Far Eastern trade will fall off to an alarming extent. If it does, then the cotton growers of the South and the entire Pacific Coast interests will suffer. Our future depends, to some extent at least, upon the Orient. Take that country from us, and—well, you can easily see the result."

Senator Scott, accompanied by his wife, daughter and little granddaughter, registered at the Washington this morning. They have just returned from an extensive trip through China and Japan. They were with the Secretary Taft-Allice Roosevelt party. Col. Scott came straight to Seattle to visit his son-in-law, at Fort Casey, while the rest of the party sailed on the steamship Siberia for San Francisco.

"Before I sailed for the Orient I had been led to believe that the boycott was a good deal of talk. Now I know differently. The Chinese are in dead earnest.

PACIFIC COAST THREATENED.

"Unless steps are taken at once to appease them, commerce on the Pacific Coast will receive a blow from which it will not soon recover. Last year one merchant in Hongkong alone bought $200,000 worth of flour from Seattle. This year, he assured me, he had not bought $45,000 worth. They are getting an inferior grade of flour from Australia. They are paying more for it, too, but that does not worry them. They will keep that up until the United States treats fairly with them.

"When I get back to Congress I am going to tell what I know about the boycott. We have got to wake up. China is rapidly becoming a field that we want. We must have it. Especially does that apply to you people out here. You will wake up some morning and find China a dead letter if you are not up and doing. I am alarmed, certainly. I know what I am talking about. You may think the boycott is a joke, but I tell you it is a stern reality. Secretary Taft is fully alive to the situation."

NARROW ESCAPE FROM FIRE

BLIND MAN NEARLY LOSES HIS LIFE—WOMAN BECOMES TEMPORARILY INSANE.

Fire destroyed the home of Henry Brinkman last evening on Lockley avenue, North Oakland, and as a result he and his grandson, Carl Lotz, have lost all they possess.

Mrs. Herman Lotz, the daughter of Mr. Brinkman, who has been suffering from mental trouble for some time, lost her mind during the fire and it was only through the watchfulness of friends that she was prevented from going back into the burning building.

Herman Lotz, the husband of Mrs. Lotz, is an inmate of the Home of the Adult Blind, but at the time the fire broke out he was in the house, and was taken out by Mr. Brinkman. Mr. Lotz is a man seventy-five years of age, but nevertheless he showed great presence of mind and courage last night. He was in the house when the fire broke out, and he was the only one who could not find his way out. He was in the house when the fire broke out, and he was the only one who could not find his way out. He was in the house when the fire broke out, and he was the only one who could not find his way out.

The fire started about 7:35 o'clock and it was some time after that the fire department arrived. When it did arrive the nearest hydrant was some distance away on Claremont avenue. After attaching the hose to the hydrant, it burst and a flow of water was put into the house. When he succeeded in getting her outside she persisted in returning to the burning house again, and it was with considerable difficulty that she was prevented from doing so.

MEET TO DISCUSS IRRIGATION

PUBLIC MEETING IS HELD IN RED BLUFF TO TALK OVER ISSUE.

RED BLUFF, Cal., October 19.—An important public meeting in the interest of irrigation was held in the court house last night, the purpose of the meeting being to form a water users' association in the region tributary to Red Bank Creek, and place the farmers in a position to negotiate with the Government relative to the construction of reservoirs.

Among the speakers were F. Ellison, W. E. Conrad, ex-Senator Foster and W. F. Luning, Mr. Luning, who is a surveyor, spoke at length on the interest in the project taken by Engineers Lippincott and Bennett when they visited this section quite recently. At that time preliminary surveys were made and an estimated cost of a dam at Iron Canyon on the Sacramento River was placed at between $300,000 and $400,000. Resolutions were passed to be sent Engineer Lippincott, and Messrs. W. F. Luning, S. R. Schoenfeld and Herbert Sampson were appointed delegates to the meeting of the Sacramento Valley Development Association, which meets on Saturday next.

HAVE NOT AGREED ON DOCTORS TYPE OF CANAL

General Davis, Chairman of the Board Says Lock System Has Not Been Agreed Upon.

WASHINGTON, October 19.—The following was issued by the Isthmian Canal Commission today:

"In regard to the published rumors to the effect that the majority of the members of the consulting board of engineers have decided in favor of a lock canal at Panama, General Davis, chairman of the board, said today:

"So far as I am aware, neither the board nor any individual member of it has expressed any opinion as to the type of canal that it favored. The board is not in possession of all the facts bearing upon the question of type. It returns to this city entirely free from any prejudice or bias respecting that type so far as known to me. The board will be in continuous session, either as a board or in separate committees until they reach a conclusion, which will be arrived at some time in the month of November, probably near the close. Two committees have been appointed to study the two types of canal—sea level and lock—and the committees are endeavoring to develop the best canal of each type. When the work shall have been completed the whole board will be ready to decide which type they prefer."

"The members of the Isthmian board of consulting engineers have all returned to Washington and tomorrow will resume their meetings.

It has been found that the mass of material on hand was so large that three separate committees have been appointed for a special study of plans for a sea level canal and a lock canal, and to consider the unit prices for both. These committees consist of three members each and General Davis is chairman of all of them.

"It is meant that the first two committees shall make plans and consult the third about the question of cost. The engineers have promised not to divulge any of their plans, and this rule is kept so strictly that even Chairman Shonts, of the Isthmian Canal Commission, is kept in the dark about their proceedings. It can be stated, however, that the decision will favor either a lock or a sea level canal, the idea of first building a lock canal and afterwards changing it into a sea level canal by means of a second canal built at one side of it, being found impracticable. The board is expected to continue in session for about six weeks more, and the foreign engineers' hope to return to Europe about the end of November."

WAR VETERAN IS FREIGHT TRAFFIC FOUND DEAD METHODS

CAPTAIN D. S. COVERDALE IS FOUND DEAD FROM HEART DISEASE.

BAKERSFIELD, October 19.—Captain D. S. Coverdale, Justice of the Peace at Delano, a veteran of the Civil War, and a resident of this county for fifteen years, was found dead in a toll room in the rear of his office at Delano, early this morning. His death was probably due to heart failure.

Captain Coverdale was last seen alive at five o'clock last evening. He was then apparently in good health.

When he did not appear at his home it was thought that he had gone to Bakersfield on business.

When the janitor of his office opened the building at six o'clock this morning the body was discovered.

The deceased was over seventy years of age, and was well known throughout the State.

OAKLAND LAD TO BOX JACK RODNEY

Henry League, a budding Oakland lightweight pugilist, has been signed up to take the place of Abe Label who was to have boxed Jack Rodney before the Hawthorne Athletic Club in San Francisco tomorrow evening.

League is managed by Joe Freitas who is willing to bet any sum from $100 to $1000 that his protégé can defeat any amateur lightweight on the Pacific Coast.

RAILWAY OFFICIALS ARE RE-ELECTED

CHICAGO, October 19.—Stockholders of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad company at their annual meeting here today re-elected six directors whose names have been proposed by the company.

The present executive officers were all re-elected.

John Driscoll, accused of disturbing the peace of Frank Von Kohaku by threatening the latter's life had his trial set for October 26 this morning by Police Judge Smith.

AN AUTOMOBILE COLLIDES WITH STREET CAR

LOS ANGELES, October 19.—An automobile collided with a Monsta-avenue street car at Fifth-third and Main streets early today, injuring the four in party of the automobile and two men and two women and wrecking the machine.

The injured:

- A Newlands arm broken lacerated scalp.
- A Sutterman severely bruised and cut about the head.
- Miss Bradford collar bone broken, body bruised.
- Little Tyson severely cut about head, body bruised.

The party were on a trip to a house in the outskirts of the city and were returning over Main street boulevard at a high rate of speed. At Fifth-third a Main street car attempted to cut across the automobile's path and failed. The car struck the automobile turning it over and pinning the occupants beneath it. They were released by the car men and sent to the Receiving Hospital.

PUZZLED BY CASE OF GIRL

They Disagree and Cause Complications in Damage Suit.

When doctors disagree lawyers are free, was never better exemplified than in the case of Thomas Ryan, who is suing the Oakland Gas Light & Heat Company for $25,000 damages for an injury sustained whereby he has been hoisting about on crutches and pronounced by doctors to be permanently injured. The suit has been on trial for several days before Judge W. H. Waste and a jury and developed to be an interesting one for medical testimony with the result that so far as they are concerned the matter is in a hopeless tangle and after a consultation lasting all the morning the attorneys concluded to go on with the case and take their chances with the jury notwithstanding what the expert testimony proves.

Ryan was hurt while digging a trench on Grove street between First and Second streets by the caving in of the earth around him until he was buried up to his armpits. The weight of earth injured him so that medical attendance was needed and Ryan was pronounced hopelessly a cripple. His injury being diagnosed as a fracture of the pelvic bones. An X-ray photograph was introduced into the case yesterday which was not at all a satisfactory one. The outline was very shadowy but by the aid of a skeleton Dr. J. M. O'Connor illustrated to the jury his theory of Ryan's injury and which was to have been followed by other doctors of the same opinion.

A suggestion was then made by Judge Waste that an entirely outside and disinterested doctor be asked to make another photograph and give his opinion as to what injury Ryan had sustained. This was agreed to by both sides and Dr. Emmet Rixford of San Francisco was engaged to make an X-ray photograph of Ryan's anatomy and come into court with a better photograph which falls, however, to show any injury such as claimed Ryan is suffering from. As an eminent expert in his line his opinion based upon his examination of Ryan at the Lane Hospital in San Francisco yesterday, threw a bombshell into the entire case this morning while the attorneys lounged in their chairs, attorneys and doctors threshed the matter out pro and con in Judge Waste's chambers for several hours.

The gist of Rixford's opinion was that the photograph fails to show the injury claimed and that his examination made of Ryan confirms this. He does not deny that Ryan was injured but while Dr. O'Connor and others have stated that they agreed to give the jury to the bones which they said had not properly knit together Dr. Rixford states that he is unable to find such a movement more than the tilting of the bones that is natural as the bones move backward and forward. A peculiar phase of the case is the fact that there is no denial of the injury made in the papers filed in the case. It being supposed by both sides that the injury was sustained and that the company was liable for its claim of not being responsible on the ground that Ryan was working at his own risk and that he was not properly protected for his injury. Dr. Rixford stated that of course he was open to conviction that if he was given a week or two to study the case and the photographs and the testimony of the doctors on both sides of the case go in for what it is worth and let the jury decide what the doctors are unable to agree upon.

In the meantime Ryan sits about the court with his crutches and appears as a man crippled. His feet drag and he is unable to move in a position to take a positive position against the evidence in the photographic plate. With this state of facts the case was continued for four days with the notice that it would begin promptly at 1:30 o'clock at which time Dr. Rixford will take the stand and let the jury decide what he and a disinterested witness what is his opinion.

PRESBYTERIANS ARE IN SESSION

REDLANDS, Cal., October 19.—At this morning's session the Presbyterian synod of California elected Rev. Frank Brush, Alameda, Moderator, and Rev. William Moore, Santa Barbara, Vice-Moderator. An address was made by Moses Bercoyitz on the subject of missionary work among the Jews. Bercoyitz is the only Jewish missionary in America supported by evangelical churches. The address of Rev. Williams of Santa Paula on education showed a decline in contributions for educational work in the church. Fewer men, he said, are entering the Presbyterian ministry each year. The Congregational churches of Southern California extended greetings.

This afternoon the reports of committees were made and addresses made by Dr. T. A. Mills, of Reno, and Dr. Hugh Walker, of Los Angeles. This evening there will be a popular meeting on home missions and an address by Rev. White, of Fall River, Mass.

MISS ROOSEVELT'S PRESENTS

NASHVILLE, Tenn., October 19.—The Nashville Chamber of Commerce today unanimously adopted a resolution requesting Secretary of the Treasury to admit free of duty the articles brought into this country by Miss Alice Roosevelt, inasmuch as they were not her own selection and purchase, but were presents from foreign people and could not be refused without the possibility of giving offense.

DELEGATES TO THE W. C. T. U. MEETING

SAN FRANCISCO, October 19.—A number of delegates to the annual convention of the California Women's Christian Temperance Union, which opens in Fresno tomorrow, left this city today. Interest centers on the opening night, when all counties having made the required gain in membership during the year will be represented on the platform by their presidents. It is expected that a full delegation will attend the national convention to be held in Los Angeles. The California unions, being among those making a gain of 500 or more members, will be entitled to participate in the proceedings of Jubilee night at the national convention.

THE LIFE OF GIRL THREATENS SUICIDE

Miss Mamie Swartz Tried to Commit Suicide.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 19.—A wild cry in the darkness startled watchers on the Folsom street wharf last night, and running in the direction from which the shriek was heard, they saw a young woman spring from the float at Peter's boat house into the turbulent waters of the bay. A moment later there was a second splash and a German sailor who saw the girl disappear dove to her rescue. The two came to the surface together. "Let me go!" cried the girl. "I want to die, mind your own business!" Her rescuer fought with her and dragged her to the float where "Senator" Jenkins the well-known boatman drew her from the water, fighting hard to resist being saved.

On the wharf the young woman who caused the commotion gave the name of Mamie Swartz. She related to tell where she lived and asked to be let alone, saying she would go home. Jenkins was suspicious that she would repeat her attempt at suicide if released, and started to take her to the Harbor Police station. On the way he met Policeman Slattery and told him the story of the rescue. The girl, who was young and beautiful, still refused to give an account of herself, other than that she had quarreled with her family and determined to end it all in the water. Slattery took her to the station whence she was sent to the Hall of Justice and placed in care of the matron. She seemed to have nerve and to be a suicide with liquor, and it was decided to hold her until she returned to her senses.

WOMAN THREATENS SUICIDE

Told Judge She Would Die if Court Took Her Children.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 19.—"I will kill myself if you take away my children; then they will have no mother," shrieked Rosa Vento in Judge Hebbard's court this morning while her three small daughters wailed in chorus. The judge had denied a decree of divorce to either party in her suit contested by Giuseppe Vento a prosperous crab dealer, and had awarded the custody of the daughters to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

"You and your husband have not treated them properly," said the judge. "I believe what your husband says about you as well as what you say about him. I cannot have these children raised under such influences."

But Rosa and her children only wailed in response, which was augmented by numerous women friends present in court.

The husband told through an interpreter, how his life, seven years ago had taken on the children and remained away for fifteen days, how she had called him vile names and refused to cook for him.

She was then put on the stand and said that her husband was unreasonably jealous. That on one occasion he climbed through her window at midnight, hoping to catch her in unfaithfulness. Other witnesses were about to be introduced, when the Court said he had been enough and denied the divorce to either.

Judge Hebbard said he would order Secretary of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children to investigate the case, and if necessary have the children committed to some public institution.

But Mrs. Vento refused to be comforted and was led from the courtroom by friends weeping.

BOYS IN GANG TO BE "BAD"

Berkeley Police Say They Have Found Would-be-Robbers.

BERKELEY, October 19.—A nest of young boys organized along the lines of the notorious "Jim Crow gang," which murdered Joseph Cook in East Oakland, has been stirred up in West Berkeley by Chief Vollmer's men. Three of the gang are in court today charged with a felony in having broken open the seals on the Santa Fe cars at the freight yards in West Berkeley, and stolen cases of bottled beer from the cars.

The lads call themselves "The Santa Fe gang" and are believed by the authorities to be responsible for a long series of petty crimes in the neighborhood surrounding the freight yards in the lower part of town.

The boys in court today are Robert Morris James Farrell and Frank Sullivan. These lads all come from good families, have broken loose from parental restraint.

The three leaders of the gang are said by the police to have contemplated the purchase of revolvers and masks for the purpose of holding up young people in West Berkeley.

An auxiliary gang of youngsters who have been operating with the "Santa Fe Crowd," including Adrian Lopez, Benjamin Henderson, Eaton Henderson, Joe Sturt, Harold Middleton, and Joe Ahlberg (these lads are all between the ages of eleven and fourteen years). They are accused of a number of petty thefts, but have been allowed to go on probation hitherto by the officers.

There have been a number of mysterious fires in West Berkeley during the last month and it is regarded by the police as possible that the "Santa Fe gang" includes youthful firebugs. The police are doing all in their power to break up the organization and rescue the boys from the evil ways they have chosen.

KILLED IN TRAIN WRECKS

Serious Accidents Happen in Colorado and in Nebraska.

LEADVILLE, Colo., October 19.—The westbound passenger train No. 3 and an eastbound freight, collided near Pando, a small station fifteen miles west of Leadville at 7:30 o'clock a. m. today. Hugh McDonald of Salida, engineer of the freight, was fatally crushed. No passengers were killed or injured.

The passenger train was twenty minutes late, and moving this it is said, the crew of the freight ran past the siding where they should have stopped and attempted to reach Pando ahead of the passenger train.

TWO ARE KILLED.

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., October 19.—A Missouri Freight train crashed through a bridge between Weeping Water and Nebraska today instantly killing Engineer B. F. Young and Fireman William Shuffield.

The engine and several cars were precipitated twenty-five feet into the stream, crushing the engineer to death. The engine and several cars were but it did not leave the rails and no passengers were hurt.

The Clothes of Gentility

The habit of a gentleman is based on quality and refinement of taste. Naturally it is more expensive to make Clothes of this high character than the machine-made kind ordinarily thrust upon you in the average clothing store. This is explanation enough of the fact that Atterbury Clothes are higher priced than most others. Character in Clothes never comes from machines. Hand tailoring alone can create it, and all Atterbury garments are hand-tailored throughout.

MISS ROBSON COMING TO THE MACDONOUGH

Brilliant Young Actress Will Play
in Oakland for Three Nights.

"How does it feel to be an international star?" asked a newspaper man who saw Miss Robson on her triumphant return from Europe.

Miss Robson has returned from a remarkably successful engagement in Israel Zangwill's 'Merely Mary Ann,' at the Duke of York's Theater, London, and consequently has gained the right to be classed among the international stars. She will play at the Macdonough Theater for three nights, commencing next Monday.

"Why she replied 'I don't think I have thought very much about it. Of course it's nice to have the public like you when you are an actress, whether it's the public of one country or another'."

Miss Robson's success has changed her very little. She is just the same attractive charming, graceful young woman who was before she went to London. Off the stage she looks very little like the pathetic slave of the play. Still, there is much in the expression of her face, her eyes, the turn of her lips the wave of her hair—yes, and in the tone of her voice, that does suggest the charming little heroine of the play, who has worked her way into the hearts of theater-goers who have seen her. Miss Robson has all the attractiveness of girlhood on the stage that makes her work on it so appealing. There is an earnestness, too in her mode of expression and her manner of speech that gives an added charm to her conversation and makes one feel that here indeed, is an actress who takes her work seriously, who has ambitions that she ought to be encouraged to fulfill.

"It was several years ago—that is I mean two or three years ago," said she, that I first spoke to Mr. Zangwill about 'Merely Mary Ann.' I was in London and had only met him once or twice when he made me a present of the little story bound in the pamphlet form that you could buy on the book stalls at that time for a shilling. I took it home and read it, and was so affected by its pathos that I read it over several times. It brought the tears to my eyes and a lump into my throat every time just as it did when I first went over it, and I fell completely in love with the poor, friendless over-worked under-fed little slave. Then the idea came to me that this would make a good play and that I would like to impersonate Mary Ann on the stage. I played Sue—Bret Harte's pathetic heroine—once when I was in a stock company and my friends were kind enough to say that I did it very well. So I thought I would like to try Mary Ann if Mr. Zangwill would make a play out of the story for me.

"But that was not an easy thing to get him to do. His dramatization of 'The Children of the Ghetto' had just been purchased in America and also in London, and had not been received in the kind of a way to please an author like Mr. Zangwill and he vowed that he would have nothing more to do with playwrighting. Still, I had become so much interested in Mary Ann that it had become my one great ambition to impersonate her on the stage, and so with considerable trepidation I broached the subject of dramatization to the author. At first he wouldn't even think of it but I persisted, and then he laughed at me—said he knew it wouldn't make a play—at least a play that would have any success, or that the public would care anything about. Still, I persisted, and I got Mr. Tyler, my manager, you know, to use his persuasive powers, too, and at last, we succeeded in getting him to promise to think it over. After that I lost no opportunity, and neither did Mr. Tyler, to urge him to go on with the work, and when I went abroad summer before last he brought the play to me all finished. I think I was even more pleased with the play than I had been with the story and it was at my request that Mr. Tyler made it the first production of my starring tour last season.

"Naturally, I am more than pleased that the public of two countries have taken so kindly to the play, and I do so hope they will continue to like it. Of course I have never seen it myself, but I know how it seems to affect even the stage hands wherever we have presented it, and you know they are the most blasé people about the theater—I suppose because there isn't any illusion in it for them at all. So if a play really affects them it seems to me it must be because there is something real in it—a picture of real life."

One of the pretty features in 'Merely Mary Ann' is the peculiar dialect that Miss Robson uses so effectively all through the first three acts, and to which she recurs when at the very end she throws herself into Lancelot's arms and tells him that for him she is still "Merely Mary Ann," and always will be.

"That dialect was one of the hardest things I had to get when I started to study the part," said Miss Robson. "It is a sort of Somerset dialect and its chief characteristic is that all the 's's' are pronounced like 'z's.' When I first began to study I got my mother, Mrs. Madge Carr Cook who has played a great many dialect roles, to help me with it, but after a while she had her own part in 'Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch' to study, and then I had to get along by myself the best way I could. I tried to find some one else in New York to help me, but apparently there was no one who knew any more about this particular dialect than I did myself. One day I happened to pick up Kipling's 'Soldiers Three,' and there I found just the thing I wanted. Now, I can talk quite as naturally in the dialect as I can in ordinary English. And, strange to say there was very little criticism of the dialect even in London, where they ought to know real Somerset from make-believe."

That the actress has studied the character she is presenting very carefully, and that she is still studying it, is proved by the fact that she never loses an opportunity of discussing its various phases with any one who she thinks can give her any valuable suggestions or assistance.

"There is a part in the story," said she, continuing the conversation "that I wish I might have had in the play. But it would have been rather difficult to express. I am afraid. You will find it very near the beginning of the story. It is only a description of the battles poor, under-fed Mary Ann has with her conscience as she carries trays of food up the stairs to the boarders. That's all, but the description is wonderful, so, wonderful! They are the fiercest, sort of fights and they are always fought out on the stairway battle ground. But, of course she never touches any of the food, not even a crumb, especially if the tray happens to be Lancelot's. She wouldn't touch a particle even to feed to Dickie, her beloved canary."

"Mary Ann never puzzles me now," she went on. "I know her so well. Marian however as she becomes in the fourth act I must confess does not take me so thoroughly into her confidence. Just before the last curtain, the wealthy Marian tells Lancelot that it will be impossible for her to marry him using just the same expression that he used to her six years before, when she was only a poor slave, and in her childish innocence, asked him to make her his wife. With the words, 'It is impossible' on her lips, she goes from the room seemingly forever, so far as Lancelot is concerned. The lover sinks down before the piano and begins to sing 'Kiss Me Goodnight Dear Love.' Suddenly there is a knock at the door, and Marian, wearing again the servant's cap and the gloves the composer had given her to hide her rough, red hands long ago comes back into the room. With a cry of surprise, Lancelot springs up from the piano. 'Mary Ann,' 'Ye-z-z-z,' she answers in the well-remembered tones of the slave. 'The little birds in my heart started singing again and I coom back.' And then she confesses that although it was impossible for Marian to marry Lancelot it is not for 'Merely Mary Ann.'

"Now what brought her back? When she left the room did she intend to return in the way she did, or did the music compel her to change her mind? Really, I cannot decide for myself. Which do you think is the better solution?"

UNIONS PROVIDE BRYAN TO MEET FOR THE SICK EMPEROR

DELEGATES TO INTERNATIONAL MEETINGS RETURN—CORNELIUS CHOSEN

The Central Labor Council has received a communication from St. Luke's Hospital San Francisco, offering special advantages for sick or injured union men, and instructing its secretary to see if as good terms can be secured from Providence Hospital in Oakland.

Local 36 Brotherhood of Carpenters took in four new members by initiation four by card and received four applications. The union has over 700 members at present.

HAVE RETURNED

The delegates of the Brotherhood of Street Railway Employees of Oakland have returned from the International meeting at Chicago. Richard Cornelius was elected to the International Executive Board.

Barbers Union No. 525 is progressing financially and otherwise.

Geo. K. Smith will leave about November 6th for the A. F. of L. convention at Pittsburgh, Pa.

IN SAN FRANCISCO

Bricklayers Union No. 7 of San Francisco is considering a proposition similar to that recently reported of the Typographical Union of Oakland that of providing for aged and infirm members. On next week Wednesday evening the Bricklayers Union will vote on two propositions, one to provide for life membership in a private institution and the other to establish a home of its own.

Labor news in San Francisco is now-days mainly a record of dances to come and of resolutions to make voting day in the imminent municipal election a holiday so far as the unions are concerned.

PEGGY FROM PARIS AT MACDONOUGH

George Ade's famous and original slang which everybody has read in the Artie stories is happy in its impressiveness and is really descriptive. In his musical comedy, 'Peggy from Paris' Mr. Ade has a character based on Artie who speaks the picturesque slang of that humorous individual. The characters in that of Reginald Hickey, and it is played by Arthur Deacon who scored a hit as the tough in 'The Belle of New York.'

There will be four performances of this musical comedy commencing this evening October 19th with a matinee on Saturday. Seats are now on sale.

LEAVES MONEY TO WIFE AND CHILDREN

SAN FRANCISCO October 19.—The will of John J. Sablin the late president of the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph Company who died October 10 was filed for probate yesterday by John Glass Gaston E. Brown and Emilio J. Zimmar who he chose as his executors. The testament was dated on September 21, 1904 and is brief. Half of the estate is left to the widow Laura Leona Sablin and the other half is to be divided share and share alike among the three daughters Grace A. Payne Pearl Leola Brown and Irene Sablin. The executors are to act without bonds and are empowered to sell any of the estate without the order of the court.

SECRETARY PILLSBURY ON MANUAL TRAINING

Finds That it is the Best Instruction for the Feeble Minded Youth.

The following letter was written by Mr. A. J. Pillsbury, Secretary of the State Board of Examiners of California, who is now making a tour of observation of public institutions in other portions of the country.

ROCHESTER N. Y., Oct. 6, 1905.

"A short time before leaving California one of our prominent educators remarked in my hearing that, while manual training is very useful in itself and greatly to be encouraged the best educational thought of the day had receded from the position taken ten or fifteen years ago that the intellectual faculties are also capable of great stimulation through the motor centers as developed by manual training."

"I have been taking some testimony on this point as opportunity has offered by the way perhaps not from among the leading thinkers among educators, but at any rate among those who have come into closest touch with the development of the latent intellects, and this testimony seems to me to be worth laying before the public, although by no means exhaustive."

"At the Home for Feeble Minded at Fort Wayne, Indiana, manual training is found to afford almost the only clue to the intellectual life, and through some form of it the brain has to be reached. Furthermore, only that which is done is remembered. The feebleness of the mind manifests itself in forgetting today the lessons of yesterday. Except as the hand and eye can bring them back into memory's grasp. Miss Helen M. Shattuck, for many years in charge of the educational work of the boys' reform school at Rochester New York, and not a school teacher, relies on manual training to awaken the slumbering intelligence of the boys committed to her charge. Prof. Briggs Superintendent of this institution declared that too much cannot be said for manual training as an aid to the moral and intellectual development of the boy."

GOOD BECAUSE IT IS ACTION.

"Dr. Westover, Superintendent of the Rochester school for deaf children finds manual training in some form the best, and sometimes the only available employment of insane labor. And the avenue to the intellect of deaf children in fact he affirms that it is action, incessant and loving, that opens the world to the comprehension of all infants hearing or deaf. He avers that in some form at every stage of the development of his charges and would not know how to make progress without it."

Dr. Sprattling Superintendent of the great epileptic colony at Sonoma, New York, affirms manual training to be the best medicine he can give to persons with normal minds that only need awakening to become useful."

WOMAN LOSES MONEY.

BOSTON'S BARBER REGULATIONS.

Board of Health Orders Sterilization of All That Barbers Use on Customers.

A special dispatch from Boston, May 6, 1900, to the New York Sun gives new regulations of the Boston Board of Health as to barber shops. "Rugs shaving brushes and razors shall be sterilized after each separate use thereof. A separate, clean towel shall be used for each person. Material to stop the flow of blood shall be used only in powdered form and applied on a towel. Powder puffs are prohibited. Wherever Newcomb's 'Herpicide' is used for face or scalp after shaving or hair cutting, there is no danger of infection, as it is antiseptic, and kills the dandruff germ. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10 cents in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Company, Detroit, Michigan."

SECRETARY PILLSBURY ON MANUAL TRAINING

Finds That it is the Best Instruction for the Feeble Minded Youth.

"At the Rochester institution the acute insane are given, as it appears to me very special advantages. There are some wards that have as few as eight patients in them and as many as five attendants. This makes each case almost individual, so far as nursing is concerned and the medical faculty hold consultations as often as twice a week over each of these acute cases until a final conclusion is reached.

"Roughly speaking twenty-five per cent of the patients admitted to the Rochester institution acutely insane are sent home cured, twenty-five per cent are sent home well enough to be cared for at home, twenty-five per cent die of their malady and the remaining twenty-five per cent become chronic cases and remain with the institution until they die. The allotted expectancy of insane life, which is somewhere between twelve and fifteen years.

"California hospitals pay much better wages than are paid at Toledo or Rochester for the service of attendants, but the institutions above-mentioned have many more of them. The California system is the better for the attendants and heaven knows their duties are onerous enough at best but there can be no doubt that the patients in the Eastern hospitals are much better looked after than they can be in California where one attendant has so very many to look out for."

AS TO MEDICINE.

"I find that little is expected of medicine in the curing of sick brains. The general health is well looked after. This done every effort is devoted to keeping the patients comfortable, happy and thoroughly employed at something that will take their minds off themselves and their hallucinations."

"Not much is made of classifying the insane. Dr. Tobey's classification is that it is easier to classify persons outside of insane hospitals than inside for the reason that there are fewer kinds to be classified."

"As to what causes insanity, Dr. Potter of Rochester, after more than twenty years of active experience, affirms that he knows less about it than ever. It is a mystery which does not clear up."

"A J. PILLSBURY"

THE HEALING OF HURT MINDS.

A Comparison Made of the Practice in California With That in Eastern Institutions for the Insane.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 7, 1905.

"I have had two special ideas in mind with reference to hospitals for the insane that I may visit. One is to make inquiry regarding the profitable employment of insane labor, and the other—much the more important—to learn if I can what is being done to-day healing hurt minds. With the limitations of a layman it has seemed to me that our California hospitals, while doing about as much as possible for the physical care of patients committed to their charge, might do more toward curing the sick-brained men and women who come under their ministrations."

"Up to this time I have visited but two hospitals for the insane one at Toledo, Ohio and the other at Rochester, New York, both on the cottage plan and both admirable, so far as I can tell."

At Toledo not much is being done in the way of employing patient labor beyond taking care of the grounds (ninety acres) and a farm of 300 acres, but more would be done if the State would furnish the shops and implements. Dr. Tobey is positive that he could make shoes, brushes, brooms, etc. at a pecuniary profit to the patients, who must be employed if they are to be cured."

"At Rochester I found industrially speaking, a better state of things. The clothing is all made by patient labor from cloth furnished by the prison at Auburn. All the shoes that the State has to buy for about two-thirds of the patients are made at the institution and mainly by patient labor."

"What interested me more than anything else I have seen in the way of the profitable employment of patient labor is the soap factory at Rochester hospital. It is a two-story building well fitted up for the making of all kinds of soap from a fine article of shaving soap and a toilet soap, sold to be as good as the ivory, on to common washing and scrubbing soap. It is all made with patient labor except one professional soapmaker and one engineer and general utility man."

"The factory runs only about three months in the fall and again in the early spring, but by so doing it makes enough soap to supply all of the fourteen hospitals for the insane in New York with their 26,000 inmates and makes it cheaper than it could be bought in the open market. It is an economic rather than a hygienic proposition, for it gives employment for only fourteen

LAST SERMON OF RECTOR

FAREWELL MESSAGE OF THE
REV. WILLIAM CARSON
SHAW.

On last Sunday Rev. William Carson Shaw, rector of the Church of the Advent in East Oakland preached his farewell sermon to the congregation over which he has presided for a number of years.
Last evening he officiated at the marriage ceremony of Miss Florence White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. White. This was the last service which he will conduct before bidding personal adieu to the members of his charge.

Dr. Shaw, it is believed, will leave for Seattle, Washington, next Thursday, where it is probable he will hereafter continue his spiritual ministrations.
The pulpit which has just been vacated by Dr. Shaw is one of the best known in the Episcopal Church in this vicinity. It has heretofore been filled by men who were distinguished for their piety, zeal and learning, and it is the wish of the members of the congregation that the same character of men may hereafter be secured to officiate.

The announcement that Dr. Shaw had severed his connection with the church was followed by applications from a number of clergymen of the Episcopal denomination living in various parts of the country. Among these was Rev. St. John Scott, rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church in West Oakland; several from San Francisco who are well known for their eloquence and piety, and a number also from the East, some residing as far away as Ohio and New York.
The number of applicants is said to be between fifteen and twenty. The duty of selecting a successor to Dr. Shaw will devolve upon the vestry which now comprises Dr. H. F. Jones, W. S. Goodfellow, A. L. White, Charles Henderson, B. S. Hough, Dr. Crawford, and E. L. Taylor. All of these, with the exception of Mr. Hough, have been giving consideration to the subject, and it is expected that it will not be long before a selection will be made satisfactory to the congregation. In these deliberations Mr. Hough is not taking part because of his absence at this time in England.

PRESIDENT WHEELER MADE A FIREMAN

BERKELEY, October 18.—Through Fire Chief James Kenney of Berkeley it was learned today that President Benjamin J. Wheeler of the University of California has been elected an honorary member of the Veteran Volunteer Firemen's Association of California.

The organization is the oldest fire-fighters' society on the Coast, and the members and officers have placed President Wheeler's name on the roll of honor because of his work in directing the students a fortnight ago, when they fought the great fire which swept through the Berkeley hills and threatened to destroy a great amount of University and city property.

The letter informing President Wheeler of the action taken by the veteran firemen was forwarded to him by J. J. McMahon, recording secretary of the association, from the headquarters at 233 Jessie street, San Francisco. The letter states that President Wheeler is entitled to the honor bestowed upon him "on account of the services rendered in fighting fire, and in directing the students" whose work saved thousands of dollars worth of estate and private property from the flames.

ROWLAND ARRESTED.

Max Rowland, a restaurant keeper at the corner of Seventh and Franklin streets was placed under arrest Tuesday afternoon by a citizen, named G. Anderson, who interfered in a family quarrel between Rowland and his wife. Anderson says that Rowland was beating his wife and when he intervened, Rowland used very abusive language with the result that he was placed under arrest on a charge of using vulgar language.

FELONY CHARGE REDUCED.

Ebenezer Johnson had the felony charge preferred against him by his seven-year-old niece, Lucy J. Stone, dismissed this afternoon on a charge of battery substituted. Johnson will come up for arraignment on a battery charge tomorrow morning.

ZIONISTS HOLD MEETING

RECEIVE AMERICAN DELEGATES ON RETURN FROM THE CONGRESS.

NEW YORK, October 18.—Zionists from all of the twenty-eight societies of the propaganda in Greater New York crowded the Manhattan Lyceum last night to receive the American delegates just returned from the last Zionist congress at Basle. The blue and white sacred banner of the Jews bearing the Kogen David, or six-pointed shield of David, hung everywhere. Here and there were American flags.
Cyrus Sulzberger, vice-president of the American Federation of Zionists, presided.

Dr. Harry Friedenwald of Baltimore, president of the American Federation of Zionists, and head of the American delegation to the Basle congress, outlined the events of the congress. Reports of the violence and disorder over the voting down of "territorialism," and the project to colonize a tract in British Uganda, he declared, had been grossly exaggerated.

A letter was read from Rev. H. Pereira Mendes, who was present at Basle, declaring that Zionism was a religious movement before it was a national one. He wrote:

"We are laboring to establish a home where we may live under the laws of Israel. First the law, then the land. First Torah then Zion."

Rev. Dr. J. L. Magnus of Temple Israel, said:

"Even those Jews who came to the congress to scoff were impressed by the solemnity of the whole occasion."

"The speech of a young Russian Jewish writer, Jagutinski, fired the congress. 'We are Zionists,' he said, 'not because we feel the weakness of this people, but because we feel its strength.'"

"That is the answer to every criticism of Gentile and Jew upon the movement or upon any of the occurrences at Basle."

"That is the answer to the question of why the East African project was refused, why the congress decided to break into Palestine at any cost. This is the reason why the National Library in Jerusalem was subvented."

"Because we feel strong enough, with enough young men to go ahead with the work in Palestine, because we feel that the people are strong enough to make for themselves a home in Palestine they need."

MAY ABANDON FOOTBALL SHOW

BERKELEY, Oct. 18.—At a recent meeting of the Traffic Managers' Association held in San Francisco, Stanford was represented by Mr. McDowell and California by W. C. Reinhardt. The railroad company claims to be unable to grant special trains for the California rosters on the day of the Varsity game. Therefore, unless special concessions can be obtained, the annual football show will have to be given up because of inadequate facilities in getting the crowd back to the city. The Southern Pacific Company expects to handle 7000 people from around the bay by running the regular 8:15 train in two sections, but since they will not run a special, it will be impossible for all the crowd to get back in time for the show.

The committee has received bids from the San Francisco theaters, and plans were coming along very nicely, but as matters stand it seems that the show will have to be given up; otherwise the committee is in a hard, and if it is possible, they will obtain the needed concessions.

COFFEE NEURALGIA

Leaves When You Quit and Use Postum.

A lady who unconsciously drifted into nervous prostration brought on by coffee, says:
"I have been a coffee drinker all my life, and used it regularly, three times a day."

"A year or two ago I became subject to nervous neuralgia, attacks of nervous headache and general nervous prostration which not only incapacitated me for doing my housework, but frequently made it necessary for me to remain in a dark room for two or three days at a time."

"I employed several good doctors, one after the other, but none of them was able to give me permanent relief."

"Eight months ago a friend suggested that perhaps coffee was the cause of my troubles and that I try Postum Coffee and give up the old kind."

"I am glad I took her advice, for my health has been entirely restored. I have no more neuralgia, nor have I had one solitary headache in all these eight months, no more of my days are wasted in solitary confinement in a dark room. I do all my own work with ease. The flesh that I lost during the years of my nervous prostration, has come back to me during these months, and I am once more a happy, healthy woman. I enclose a list of names of friends who can vouch for the truth of the statement." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason.

Ten days' trial leaving off coffee and using Postum is sufficient. All grocers.

FIND MAN IN INSANE ASYLUM

CHICAGO, October 18.—William P. Crenshaw, whose disappearance from the Del Prado Hotel late in August caused a sensation, is now in the insane asylum at Kankakee, Ill. He was sent there by order of Judge Carter of the County Court, six weeks ago, but as the hearing was private the decision was not given out.
Mr. Crenshaw was general agent for the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company and previous to that was district manager for the Standard Oil Company in North Dakota.
His insanity took the form of a delusion that he was rich and showed itself strongly in his habit of sending lengthy telegrams and holding frequent long distance telephone conversations with his friends throughout the country.

FINDS FRAUD IN PAY ROLLS

WESTERN UNION IS PAYING OUT
MONEY ON IRREGULARITIES.

NEW YORK, October 18.—The Herald says today: It was learned yesterday at the Western Union building that the traveling auditor had discovered extensive frauds in pay rolls of the Western Division and that several cases of the same kind had come to light in New York.

Irregularities were detected in the offices at St. Louis and Denver, where it was reported that the names of dead men had been carried. Officials connected with local offices said they knew nothing about the affair. J. B. Van Every, general auditor of the company, declared there had been no recent cases. "Everything of that kind or which I have known has been closed up," said he, "and the bonding companies have settled it. There has been nothing like that recently in this division."

"As to padded payrolls in the West, I have no knowledge, although I might on going to my office in the morning, find a report of this nature. Often the returns from the division auditors come two or three weeks late. In such cases as the one mentioned the auditors in those divisions would hold back the information until they had made a settlement with the bonding companies."

Telephone Monopoly Organ Abuses Pendleton

Councilman Pendleton has received the compliment of a torrent of abuse from the organ of the telephone monopoly. If the Enquirer realized what a wretched exhibition it is making of itself, how the brazen effrontery of its brutal and vulgar personal attacks on the members of the Council who refused to vote to make the Sunset's franchise exclusive, excites disgust and contempt on the part of fair-minded citizens, it would desist from demonstrating its loyalty to the telephone monopoly by printing blatherskiting billingsgate, which invites comparisons both odious and odorous. It would feel thoroughly ashamed of itself—if it is not past feeling shame.

Mr. Pendleton wrote a polite note to the Enquirer stating who Councilman Thurston is and what his record has been. The Enquirer printed it under the caption, "Pendleton defends one of his confederates." This was apparently not grossly insulting enough to both Mr. Pendleton and Mr. Thurston, for the editorial page contained another tirade of personal abuse directed at Mr. Pendleton because he dared to vote for competition in the telephone business. "Public wrath will follow him," says the megaphone. It will be news to learn that the Sunset Company is the public. It will be additional news to learn that the wrath of the telephone monopoly can injure anybody in this community. The public will be at no loss to judge between the groups of Councilmen on either side of the telephone question. If invidious comparisons are to be drawn, the average citizen will have no doubt as to where he should look for honor, independence and an intelligent regard for the public interests.

Mr. Pendleton has long been a citizen of Oakland; he is a man of large property and unblemished reputation; a merchant engaged in extensive business, whose moral and financial standing is unassailable. It is a piece of colossal impudence on the part of the telephone monopoly to endeavor to discredit him in this community because he has declined to obey its commands. Nor is the public likely to misunderstand the motives which prompt the attacks on Mr. Pendleton and the base inspiration which conceives them.

When the Home Company made its application for a franchise Mr. Pendleton dictated not less than ten important changes, all to the advantage of the city and the general public, which were incorporated in the ordinance. These changes were made by City Attorney McElroy, whose integrity and professional ability no one is likely to question. They were all earnestly supported by Mr. Thurston, who, like Mr. Pendleton, was determined to protect the city from being buncoed by any more Beasley fakes.

These changes required the franchise to be sold at a minimum price of $20,000. The purchaser is required to build and maintain for fifty years a conduit for the exclusive use of the city, which will effect an immediate saving of $8,500, as the Council was about to appropriate that sum to construct a conduit for the wires of the fire alarm system. The free use of the other conduits of the competing company will save the expenditure of an additional $7,000. This is all aside from the two per cent of gross revenue the new company will have to pay into the city treasury or the fifty free telephones granted the municipality.

By requiring a flat rate, that is, that no charge shall be made for local switches in Oakland, Berkeley or Alameda, or any other town that may be incorporated with Oakland, a considerable saving is effected for telephone users. A large indemnifying bond is required as a guarantee that the conditions of the franchise will be complied with, and lastly, a provision is inserted forbidding the new company to sell out or combine with any telephone company now in this field, under penalty of forfeiture. Thus it will be seen that Messrs. Pendleton and Thurston and their colleagues who voted for the franchise have carefully safeguarded the public interests. By blocking the door against combination or one company selling out to the other, the Council has insured honest competition that will afford the city a considerable yearly income.

Had the Council refused to grant this franchise the Sunset Company would have been left in undisputed possession of the field. Its franchise has thirty-seven years yet to run. It pays no part of its revenue to the city; it gave the city (whatever it gave to anybody else) nothing for its franchise. It only gives the city the use of ten telephones, charging for other telephones and switches. It does not give the city the free use of conduits and poles for the wires of the fire alarm system. Its service is notoriously bad—that is admitted by its own officers and agents. It charges all the traffic will bear and treats complaints of bad service and excessive charges with undisguised contempt.

This is the service that the Enquirer desires shall be left in sole and unrestricted control of the Oakland telephone field for thirty-seven years to come. The Enquirer has the effrontery to denounce interference with the monopoly of an insolent corporation as a betrayal of public interests; has the hardihood to declare that admitting competition is putting the people in bondage. The bald audacity of its contention is only approached by the abandoned shamelessness of its wanton abuse of the most reputable and upright members of the Council.

The Pacification of the South

At Richmond, the first stopping place in his Southern tour, the President made a characteristic exhibition of his contempt for prejudice, his indifference to precedent. None of his predecessors in the Presidential chair would have ventured to stand at the foot of a Confederate monument and deliver to an assemblage of Confederate veterans an address eulogizing the deeds and characters of Confederate generals. But Roosevelt is a law unto himself. His patriotism is as impeccable as his frankness and sincerity are self-evident. Nobody will misunderstand either his motives or his position. The loyal heart of the North will not be fired anew with suspicion and sectional antagonism. In the South no dead hopes will be revived; and because the President comes to them as a kinsman and friend, warmly praising their heroic dead and giving frank acknowledgment of his appreciation of their sincerity and courage, Southerners will not have the slightest idea that he admits the war for the preservation of the Union was a mistake or that the clauses written into the Constitution by the sword are to be expunged or treated as dead letters. Not even Cleveland or McKinley received such a spontaneous and heart-warming welcome in the South, where but a short time ago Mr. Roosevelt was the object of bitter disapproval. The President has broken down sectional prejudices on both sides of the Potomac. He is a pacifier among his countrymen, who are equally proud of him whether they wore the blue or the gray.

James H. Maddy, of 95 Liberty street, New York, continues to favor us with typewritten arguments against railroad rate legislation marked "not for publication." Of course the "not for publication" is a bait for gullible editors. The articles are prepared for publication, but Mr. Maddy desires to have them published as original expressions of opinion in newspapers which can be deluded into thinking they are stealing something valuable. In other words, Mr. Maddy is systematically working the class of newspapers which habitually steal their editorial matter and as often as not grind somebody else's axe without knowing it. Mr. Maddy is conducting a literary bureau for the railroads controlled by J. Pierpont Morgan & Co. It is time the editors who have been using his stuff got next to their job, for they are getting beautifully film-flammed.

According to Professor Walter Magee, the California girl exceeds her Eastern sisters in lung capacity. Now let us measure in fear and trembling to see if she has a corresponding sweep of jaw.

"President Ide of the State University thinks the game of football should be revised," says the Los Angeles Herald. In what particular does not matter, but there is some curiosity in this latitude to know when President Wheeler was superseded. Who is "President Ide," anyhow? Will the man from Missouri who edits the Herald show us?

Tippling in the Juryroom

The attorney for former Senator Emmons, convicted of accepting a bribe, now declares his client should be given a new trial because some of the jurymen took an occasional drink of whisky during the long trial. As soon as the jury was empaneled it was placed in charge of the Sheriff by Judge Hart, consequently none of the members could get any sort of refreshment save through the officer in charge. Some of the jurymen were in the habit of taking an occasional nip during the day, and by Judge Hart's order the Sheriff served them with limited quantities of liquor during the trial. It is not contended that any of them became intoxicated or that the whisky they drank influenced them against the defendant, but the mere fact that some of the jurors drank occasionally during the trial is seized upon as a pretext for asking the Court to set aside the verdict. It is a slim pretense. While the propriety of supplying intoxicants even in limited quantities to a jury in charge of a Sheriff, is open to question, the fact they were supplied in this instance by the officer in charge in obedience to the order of the Court robs it of all sinister significance. Had the jury been permitted to go free of the Sheriff's custody during the trial, as is frequently done, the drinking members would have taken their accustomed "nips" unnoticed and without hindrance. They would probably have drunk a great deal more than they did under the circumstances. At any rate, if none of them became intoxicated and no special misconduct affecting the rights of the defendant is shown, it is difficult to see how the case of Emmons was prejudiced. But if the verdict of a jury whose members indulge in stimulants during the course of a trial is therefore vitiated, why are not the proceedings equally vitiated if the trial judge takes an occasional drink? And if a jurymen may not drink while in custody of the Sheriff, why should he be allowed to drink when at liberty to do as he pleases? The safe rule in such cases would seem to be to require the defendant to show affirmatively wherein his rights were prejudiced by the bibulous propensities of jurors whether in or out of the custody of a Sheriff. Whisky-drinking in a jury room is not very edifying, and should not be encouraged, but it is no proof that jurors do not give verdicts according to law and evidence, and from conscientious motives.

THANKS GOD FOR CUTICURA

Mrs. P. Hackett, of 400 Van Buren St., Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I wish to give thanks for the marvelous cure of my mother by Cuticura. She had a severe ulcer, which physicians had pronounced incurable. It was a terrible disfigurement, and people would stand in amazement and look after her. After there was no hope from doctors she began using Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills, and now, thank God, she is completely cured, and her face is as smooth and clear as ever."

THE PESSIMIST.

Behold the soured pessimist,
With frown he goes around;
He never sees the smiling sun,
He gazes on the ground;
The only skies his eyes are greet
Are in the puddles at his feet.

Though flowers bloom along the way
Their grace he never heeds,
He searches out with acid eye
The rank, forbidding weeds;
The dainty rose he spurns and scorns
And only finds the bitter thorns.

He never hears the ringing laugh,
But listens for the sighs;
He always wears a veil of mist
Before his gloomy eyes;
The way he goes is full of gloom,
He's always looking to the tomb.

Behold the gloomy pessimist,
He's gladder when he's sad,
And if you give these words a twist
He's sadder when he's glad.

OTHER DAYS.

Some ethnologists claim that the Gypsies are of the same family as the Tartars who have been causing so much trouble in the Caucasus region. They are said to have appeared first in Germany in 1417, under the name of Tartars or Zingians, and by a statute of Henry VIII. were expelled from England in 1530. "This not proving efficient to exterminate the race, stronger measures were taken, described by Thomas Cromwell in a quaint letter still extant. "And in case ye shall here or knowe of any such Gipsyans," he writes to "My Lorde of Chester," "that ye shall compell them to depart to the next port of the see, and ever without delaye upon the first winde that shall conveye them, or if they shal in any wise breke that commandment, to see them executed without sparing upon any commynion, licence or placard that they may shewe or alledge for themselves to the contrary."

Much importance attached to the doings of prize fighters in the days of George III, as is shown by the following extract from the London Times of a century ago. "A report has been propagated by the enemies of Elder Belcher, that he is matched to fight the Chicken a pitched battle for a considerable sum. Nothing can be more foreign from the truth. Belcher has not only had the misfortune to lose an eye, but has long been in an emaciated state, and incapable of any bodily exertion. Besides, he gains a comfortable living in a public house, and has no thought of hazarding his bread by the loss of his license, for the chance of obtaining a few pounds."

Among the attractions of an old London fair in the year 1789 was advertised a boy "that within one of his eyes had 'Deus Meus' in capital letters, and round the other a Hebrew inscription." Another was the city of Amsterdam, "every street, every individual house carved in wood, in exact proportion one to another, the Stadthouse as big as your hand."

Age takes away from new whisky the fiery, oily, burning sensation experienced when you taste new liquor.
New goods are always cheaper, because it's age that makes whisky smooth and age means expense. It means lying years in wood in the warehouse.
Some distillers cannot afford to keep whisky long enough to properly age it. We can do this.

SOCIETY ATTENDS MARRIAGE CEREMONY

MISS FLORENCE WHITE BE-COMES THE BRIDE OF M.
W. FAITOUTE

The Church of the Advent in East Oakland was the scene last evening of one of the prettiest weddings of the year, when Miss Florence Pauline White became the bride of Moses Willard Faitoute of New York. The church was beautifully decorated with huge knots of white chrysanthemums on the altar and an avenue of palms leading up to the chancel. White predominated in the decorations, and the gowns of the bride and her attendants were also of exquisite white effect.

At half past eight the first notes of "Lohengrin" heralded the approach of the bridal party. The four ushers led the way, Fred Dieckmann, Charles D. Bates Jr., Arthur Goodfellow and Stanley Moore.

The maid of honor, Miss Marion Goodfellow, wore an exquisitely fashioned decollete gown of white net finished at the shoulders and waist with an applique of silver lace. The skirt was trimmed with laced bands of net and she wore a coronet of pink roses.

The four bridesmaids, Miss Claire Chabot, Miss Florence Hush, Miss Flora McDermott and Miss Lucretia Burnham, wore gowns of white chiffon tulle made in princess with girlish of silver lace and low cut bodices. In their hair they wore the wreaths of pink roses and each carried an armful of Cecil Bruner roses.

The bride's favor to each bridesmaid was a crescent of sapphires and pearls and to her maid of honor a ring of emeralds and pearls.

The bridal gown was of rich white satin trimmed with rare lace and finished with a long tulle veil. The gown was made with a graceful train trimmed with a flounce of lace and the bodice was elaborated with a deep-pointed lace yoke. Her bouquet was a shower of chrysanthemums and lilies-of-the-valley, and she wore a crescent of diamonds, the gift of the groom.

Mrs. White wore a handsome gown of pink and dove gray brocade.

The groom was attended by Thornton White as best man.

The marriage service was read by Rev. William Carson Shaw, assisted by Rev. Edgar T. Gee of St. John's Episcopal Church.

The church was crowded with society people from both sides of the bay, and an elaborate reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. White on East Seventeenth street. The house decoration was white and green with American Beauty roses in the reception room. The young couple stood under a bower of white chrysanthemums to receive the congratulations of their friends. An elaborate wedding supper was served in a large marquee on the lawn and under an arch of palms, and decorated with a wealth of pink roses, was the bride's table.

After a brief honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Faitoute leave for their future home in New York where Mr. Faitoute is in business.

HOME CLUB.

The luncheon today at the Home Club was a delightful affair and after a pleasant hour spent over the menu a musical program was enjoyed.

The hostesses included besides the directors Mrs. George C. Edwards, Miss Marietta Edwards, Mrs. Wallace Everson, Miss Everson, Mrs. W. S. Goodfellow, Mrs. Giles Gray, Mrs. Harry Dumont, Mrs. E. L. Dow, Miss Sara Drinkwater.

The decorations were in charge of

MRS. M. W. FAITOUTE (NEE WHITE), WHOSE WEDDING LAST NIGHT WAS AN ELABORATE AFFAIR

Mrs. Murray Johnson and Mrs. J. W. Wilcox

The musical program consisted of vocal numbers by Mrs. Olive Reed, Cushman and piano numbers by Mrs. Arthur Moore and Miss Louise Eager. Mrs. Marcuse gave an entertaining talk on "Points in Law Every Housekeeper Should Know."

MUSICALS AND TEA

The tea to be given Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. D. C. Farnham on Fourteenth street promises to be one of the delightful affairs of the week.

The proceeds are to go to the West Oakland Kindergarten.

Among those who will contribute to the musical program are Mrs. Frederick S. Stratton, Miss Maxwell Tift, Miss Sevilla Hayden.

The hours are from 3 until 6 and a large attendance is expected.

A WEDDING

The marriage will take place next month of Miss Meta Ethel Best, second daughter of Daniel Best and George Jackson, a well known young business man. The ceremony will take place at the home of the bride to which only relatives and intimate friends have been invited.

After the honeymoon Mr. Jackson and his bride will make their home in San Leandro.

LECTURE AT EBELL

The audience which greeted Prof. Henry Morse Stephens yesterday at Ebelle, listened with much interest to the informal talk by the eminent teacher. Professor Stephens deplored the lack of general reading among the average student body of present day universities, and even among the children in the high schools and grammar schools. The blame he thinks lies with the parents who do not provide proper mental food for the rounding out of the child's education. Children libraries abound, but there is no selection and the inquiring young mind ready for strong mental stimulus is fed with "baby food." Professor Stephens phens claims that the present school system needs radical reform where the personal equation will be considered, and the boy who takes up manual labor will have a different course of education from the boy who adopts a profession or again the one who seeks a literary or scientific career.

The speaker also gave some opinions in co education which were received with enthusiasm. He says that one of the disadvantages of the present co educational system is the placing on a plane of competitive learning the mature girl and the immature boy leaving the boy to discouragement and despair. He thinks that here, again the personal equation must be considered and the matter of co education be one of individual choice or necessity. He spoke of the feminization of education and asked the club women to consider whether it were better or best for a boy or girl to have women teachers throughout the grammar and high school training.

While waiting for Professor Stephens to arrive yesterday Mrs. Annie Garlick gave read a paper on the Red Cross in London.

The members of the board, including the president Mrs. J. B. Hume, acted as a receiving committee assisted by Mrs. Frederick Stratton, Mrs. E. A. Heron, Mrs. I. M. Butler, Mrs. G. L. Belcher, Mrs. D. R. Rae, Mrs. Charles Woodbury and Mrs. G. A. Willard.

CARD PARTIES

Miss Carmen Sutton entertained this afternoon at a card party for Miss Edith Downing. As a surprise to the guest of honor each girl brought a dainty gift and showered the bride-to-be with "baby food." School friends of Miss Downing.

Mrs. A. L. Stone also entertained a dozen friends this afternoon at cards, and a pleasant hour was spent over the game. The affair was quite informal.

CARD CLUBS

Mr. and Mrs. William High will entertain the Thursday Evening Five Hundred Club this evening at their attractive home.

Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Boyes will also entertain this evening at the pleasant reunion of a card club at the home of Dr. and Mrs. D. J. Boyes.

BRIDE GETS NOTICE OF 10 MINUTES FOR TRIP TO ALASKA

NEW YORK, October 18.—Charles A. Sulzer, brother of Congressman William Sulzer, traveled 5,000 miles to visit his sweetheart proposed to her last Sunday, married her yesterday, and within ten minutes after the ceremony he and his bride were speeding to Alaska. A great portion of the trip must be traversed in dog sledges.

Mr. Sulzer's bride was Miss Gertrude Harrison, daughter of George Harrison, of Elizabeth, N. J., the wealthy treasurer of the Democratic Club. Miss Harrison had not the slightest knowledge it is said, that Mr. Sulzer was to propose to her Sunday, although she had known him many years. She was equally when informed during the ceremony that she must start for Alaska within ten minutes.

The bride was equal to the emergency and when the carriage which was to take them to the railroad station dashed up to the door she was all ready.

The reason for Mr. and Mrs. Sulzer's rapid trip to Alaska was because the presence of the bridegroom was unexpectedly demanded at the mine which is owned jointly by him and his brother William the Congressman.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Herbert K. England, and was attended by a large number of friends. Congressman Sulzer was one of the ushers.

Mr. Sulzer has been in Alaska for four years. Formerly he was president of the Democrat Club.

It is said that although the brother of the Congressman and his sweetheart had pledged their troth before he went to the Alaska wilderness, Mr. Sulzer did not really know until Sunday that Miss Harrison still was heart free and that his long journey had not been in vain.

street. The program will consist of two pantomimes, "A Bachelor's Dream" and "Looking Backward," and other literary and musical numbers. The cast includes Dr. A. K. Crawford, who will take the part of the bachelor, assisted by the Misses Cecil Harold, Grace Stalder, Alice Albright, Irene Webster, Grace Downey, Alice Dewing, Margaret Dewing, Henrietta Watkins, Nell Chester, Hazel Baum, Helen Carter, Lillian Fischer, Mary Fischer, Helen Price, Cecil Calhoun and M. Smith. The evening will be completed with a dance.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Invitations are out for a birthday party to be given for Miss Ida Batford at the residence of her mother, Mrs. S. Batford Friday evening, October 21.

Among the invited guests are Miss Blanche Masterson, Miss Alice Albright, Miss Helen Hineckley, Miss Helen Acker, Miss Dora Selig, Miss Vera Callan, Miss Valerie Berlin, Miss Marjorie Eowkins, Miss Valentine Goody, Miss Mary Schultz, Miss Alyce McCarter, Miss Martha Bollett, Miss Irene Lloyd, Miss Ida Lloyd, Miss Hazel Gunn, Miss Anna Gunn, Miss Eva Gunn, Miss Ruth Rogers and others. Messrs. Bernal Vogel, Thomas Carroll, Ed Harmon, Roy Guthrie, Duell Batford, William Glenn, Wallace Carroll, Owen Maurer, David Bollett, Douglas Cohen, Ward Wilcox, Fletcher Albright, Stewart Rugg, Bob Todd and others.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Alexander N. Mitchell is the guest of her sister, Mrs. George Perkins of East Oakland.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Dabney have returned after a pleasant stay in the North and a visit to the Exposition.

Miss Hilma A. Butler has returned after a delightful trip to San Jose, where she was the guest of Mrs. A. H. Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Edward Teague and Miss Annibell C. MacLeod, left Oakland for a few weeks visit in Los Angeles stopping a few days on their return trip in Santa Barbara.

Mrs. C. H. Dunsmoor has been the guest of Mrs. A. W. Hare of Santa Cruz.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Pirie are visiting friends in Stockton.

FASHION'S LATEST MANDATES.

Long straight scarfs of fur that drape around the figure as did the chiffon scarfs of the summer are to be modish. All the pliable skins will be made up in this style. The muffs have not revealed themselves yet, but the flat designs of last winter are likely to be among the modes of this year.

The favorite trimming for velvets seems to be moire, which has returned to favor with a furor equalled only by the vogue enjoyed by the sheer linen fabrics during the summer season. It is used for strappings and stuttings of all descriptions and frequently in combination with the pretty braids, of which there are so many.

DECLARES HOSPITAL IS A REGULAR LOVER'S LANE

Instead of looking after the patients the nurses and physicians would gather in the wards and hug and kiss and call each other pet names.—Statement made by Mrs. William Willardson.

NEW YORK, October 18.—The wards of the North Hudson Hospital in Union Hill, N. J. according to statements made by prominent members of the Ladies' Guild, an organization connected with the institution, resembled lovers' lanes when the doctors and nurses gathered during the afternoons. They would hold hands, kiss each other and wander up and down hand in hand in full sight of the patients.

The charges were brought forward last night at a meeting of the Board of Governors. Mrs. Willardson, of Weehawken Heights, said that a maid employed by her was admitted to the hospital. While Mrs. Willardson was telling her story at the meeting she became hysterical and fainted.

"My maid told me, she said, 'that during the afternoons the nurses would meet the doctors in the wards and stand for a half hour at a time holding hands. The patients would have to wait until the love-making was finished before they were treated.'"

A committee was appointed to investigate the charges and have the nurses and doctors before the board at its next meeting.

Dr. DeGroff, the head physician at the hospital, says that the charges are ridiculous. He is a man of about sixty years of age.

Miss Clemens, the superintendent, said:

"The report of that committee is founded purely on hearsay and there is absolutely no justification for it. I and some of the doctors connected with the hospital have been talking over the matter, and we are determined to seek redress."

We have here one house physician and twelve visiting doctors. Six nurses, all young women, are employed in the hospital. Both the doctors and the nurses indignantly and emphatically deny that there is the slightest foundation for the statements made by the committee of the Ladies' Guild. Furthermore, if anything of the kind had been going on I am sure that it could not have escaped my attention, and I can truthfully say that I have never seen any improper conduct on the part of any nurse or doctor, or have had any reason to suspect that any of the patients were being neglected.

The charges are absolutely false and this will be clearly established should an investigation be made.

President Moneaux has said to me, however that he did not believe the stories that have been told and looked upon them as idle gossip."

DAUGHTER DECLARES MILKMAN KISSED HER MAMMA

NEW YORK, October 18.—Neighbors of the wealthy Buckingham family, who had often seen the milkman chatting with Mrs. Harriet J. Buckingham at the front door of the mansion at No. 181 Almsie street, Brooklyn, thronged the Supreme Court in that borough yesterday to testify in the suit for absolute divorce against Edward T. Buckingham brought against his wife. He named the milkman, George Raynor of No. 1411 Greene Avenue, as the cause of severing of family ties.

Year-old daughter told of a visit made with her mother and Raynor to a saloon where they had drinks together, and where Raynor hugged and kissed her mother behind a screen. When the girl remonstrated, she testified, her mother replied that she "loved dear George better than anything on earth," and hated her husband.

Annie Shaw, a washerwoman, testified that Mrs. Buckingham told her she saw Raynor's picture next her heart and that she was anxious to get a divorce from her husband so she could always be with her "darling George."

William Butcher, next door neighbor, testified that for years Mrs. Buckingham's attitude toward the milkman had been the talk of the neighborhood. He said she arose at 5 in the morning, "rain, hail or shine," to meet the milkman and talk to him, and that he had often seen them riding and seated together at night on a bench in Tempkins Park.

Some of the velvets are so soft and shimmering that they really look like satin and when they are unlined it takes an experienced eye to detect the difference. For dinner and evening gowns the chiffon and radium velvets and satin ancient promise to be equally as smart, if not smarter than the more diaphanous fabrics.

Retired gentleman of 50, blonde, widower, wishes to meet a lady of 30 or 40 years of age; Protestant, educated, a brunette; she must have natural teeth, and small mouth; character must be above reproach; about five feet eight inches tall and weigh about 120 pounds, and handsome; means not necessary; confidential; object matrimony; no agents. Address, Y. M. C.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The above is an advertisement read to a jury in the Supreme Court at White Plains recently, Justice Keogh presiding, in a suit for $20,000 damages for breach of promise brought by Mrs. Myra Beals of New Rochelle, a pretty brunette and widow, against Dr. Miles J. Evans, a wealthy dentist of Utica.

Dr. Evans, just before adjournment, took the witness stand and denied that he had made love to Mrs. Beals. "I only wrote to her for the sport of it," he testified. "I never kissed her, and I never asked her to marry me." He said his friend, Dr. C. L. Robinson, of No. 59 West Fifty-third street, was responsible for the advertisement.

Mrs. Beals who, it is said, once owned extensive orange groves in Florida, but which were wiped out by the great freeze about nine years ago, at a loss of $60,000, testified that she had of late years been forced to earn her living by teaching school. At one time she taught in Mrs. John Cunningham Hazen's seminary at Pelham Manor. She admitted that she had answered the advertisement printed above, and declared that she had received a number of letters from Dr. Evans and that he had called upon her and asked her to marry him.

COY ABOUT GIVING AGE.

When Mrs. Beals, who was represented by former Corporation Counsel Michael J. Tierney of New Rochelle, and L. G. Backus, was asked her age she hung her head a moment and said she would rather not. Justice Keogh told her she had better answer the question and she then said she was thirty-nine.

Q Did you see an advertisement in the personal column of a New York paper on May 17, 1903?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. What did you do?

A. I answered it and received a reply.

Q. What did you say in your letter?

A. I said that the personal had struck my eye and sounded sincere. I wrote that I was lonely and that I only had good and worldly motives and that I would be glad to hear from him, and I gave him my address, which was No. 31 West Twenty-fifth street. He called on me and said he was a lonely man; that he had just lost his wife, and that he intended to be married and that I impressed him more than anyone else. He said he had been engaged to a girl in Utica, but that she was ill and that the engagement was broken. He asked me if I loved him and was willing to marry him on such a short notice. I said yes.

LETTERS NOT FERVID.

Mrs. Beals further declared that his letters suddenly ceased on September 18, 1903, and on September 23 she learned that he had married the girl in Utica, whose engagement to him he told her had been broken off. Lawyer Hemmens dwelt on the fact that the letters written to the plaintiff were free from endearing terms, and that they all started with "My dear friend," and ended with "Sincerely yours."

Several letters were read to the jury, but the plaintiff said the one which contained an offer of marriage "had been destroyed when she moved."

The following letter was written to Mrs. Beals by the doctor five days before his marriage:

"You are almost a stranger to me just because I would not leave my daughter alone among strangers and rush to New York. I am threatened with trouble and unpleasantness by one I hardly know anything of. You can make up your mind to one thing—you will never meet me alone unless I know your motive and I know more about you than I do now, which I will in time."

A WOMAN HAD $1747 IN HER STOCKING FOR 5 YEARS

PITTSBURG, Oct. 19.—Whether a woman can carry $1747 in gold, silver and paper money in her stockings, in addition to her "skin-limb," is a question which was brought up in the United States District Court today before Judge Joseph H. Buffington.

The problem came up in the bankruptcy proceedings of Joseph Nathan. It being alleged that he knew he was insolvent when he disposed of his stock to Mrs. Dora Hirsowitz, stepmother of his wife.

"She told me," said Attorney Charles Saens, "that she paid for the store $1747 in cash—$1000 in bills and $747 in coin, gold and silver. She said she had got it out of her 'stocking.'"

"Now $740 in gold will weigh thirty-seven ounces. If the $7 was in silver it would make about three and a half pounds of coin altogether."

"Maybe she had it in a separate stocking," suggested the Court.

"She told me she carried it in the same stocking with her—I mean the same stocking she wore, that she had carried it that way all the five years."

FORCED TO GIVE UP ITS INDEPENDENCE OF WOMEN

NEW YORK, October 19.—After listening for twenty-two years aloof from femininity, the "Musurgia," one of New York's oldest and most famous male singing societies, last night admitted women singers. At its first rehearsal of the season, in preparation for its first concert on December 1, a female chorus sang with the men the selections from Liszt's "St. Elizabeth," which will take up the second part of the program. Although the male chorus will be preserved and will be heard, it is probable that the "Musurgia" will never again declare its independence of women.

Men wouldn't go to sleep in church, either if they held their noses in order to keep their heads on straight in Cleveland, Ohio.

MAN AND WIFE MADE MAD BY LIFE ON A FARM

CHICAGO, October 19.—Joseph and Annie Holdobler, husband and wife who deserted their farm near Wakefield, Neb. and declared they were escorted to Chicago by thirty mounted English soldiers were found to be mentally unbalanced in the court for the insane and sent to Dunning.

An instance of husband and wife being declared insane on the same day and in the same court afforded one of the most remarkable cases that have come under the observation of the authorities at the detention hospital.

Dr. Davis, superintendent of the institution declared it to be a remarkable case and said the explanation was to be found in the fact that the two had been living on a farm in a lonely part of Nebraska. Apparently Dr. Davis said, the woman first became possessed of delusions and these influenced her husband whose mind gradually became afflicted with a similar aberration. Both the man and the woman admitted they left their farm in Nebraska because of fear and told a story that the wife was a daughter of an Indian princess whose husband was an English lord.

I was taken to Munich, Germany when five years old and shortly afterward she was slain because she was an heiress to $1,250,000 explained the woman. This money is still in England and I am the rightful heir to it.

The couple have lived in this country for three years and when they came from Germany went direct to Nebraska where they rented a farm. A few days ago they came to Chicago and when they appeared to the police it was apparent that they were both demented.

Danderine

GREW THIS HAIR
AND WE CAN PROVE IT.

MISS MARIANA HENRY, CHICAGO.
#336 Forrester Ave., Chicago.
Miss Henry says: "Before I began using Danderine my hair was falling out in great handfuls, and I am pleased to say that Danderine not only stopped it, but it has made my hair grow more than twice as fast as it ever did."
"Mrs. Elsie Atcherson, Little Rock, Ark., says: "It is simply remarkable the way Danderine improves the hair. It has made my hair grow in twelve long-er in five months and it is getting thicker and longer all the time. I believe in giving praise where it is due, and you can use my name as reference if you so desire."

FLORENCE RUSSELL, CHICAGO.
215 Mohawk Street, Chicago.
Since it has become generally known that Danderine cures a hair, it grows just as abundantly as the hair of children. It is truly marvellous, and I am sure that every woman who uses it will be able to prove it. I have used it for several months, and I can certainly say that it has made my hair grow in twelve long-er in five months and it is getting thicker and longer all the time. I believe in giving praise where it is due, and you can use my name as reference if you so desire."

MISS SELMA HASSALL, CHICAGO.
2725 North 42d Court, Chicago.
Miss Hassall says: "My hair would not reach below my waist when I began using your Danderine. It was very faded and splitting at the ends. Now it is over 24 feet longer than it ever was and it has regained its original rich blond color. I used the tonic about four months ago, and I can certainly say that it has made my hair grow in twelve long-er in five months and it is getting thicker and longer all the time. I believe in giving praise where it is due, and you can use my name as reference if you so desire."

DANDERINE is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, fertilizing and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow abundantly long, strong and beautiful. IT IS THE NATURAL FOOD OF THE HAIR, SO EFFECTIVELY CHARGED WITH NEW AND GENUINE LIFE-PRODUCING ESSENCES UNNEEDED BY OTHER MAKERS OF HAIR TONIC. NOW at all druggists in three sizes, 25 cents, 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle. FREE. To show our quick Danderine, we will send a large sample free by return mail to anyone who sends the advertisement to the known Danderine Co., Chicago, with their name and address and ten cents in silver or stamps or pay postage.

PRICE IS LIFE OF A MAN

Disaster to Bank, But Not a Suicide, Was Expected.

NEW YORK, October 19.—Concerning the closing of the Enterprise National Bank of Albany and the suicide of its cashier, T. Lee Clarke, yesterday, a dispatch to the Herald from Pittsburgh says: "It was learned last Wednesday night that the disaster to the Enterprise was expected in certain quarters. Plans for an exposure of the trafficking in State funds, it is said, were laid weeks ago. Mr. Clarke was cognizant of this and talked over the matter with several of the directors a few days ago. The cashier was told by the directors he would have to meet the paper obligations of the institution negotiated through him, and he promised to insure the bank against the matter for which he was responsible. The supposition is he was unable to accomplish this and, fearing the consequences, took his life. Although the bank directors only acknowledge having $600,000 of the State funds, the assertion was made by one of the bank officials that the Enterprise had more than $1,000,000 State money on deposit before the extensive loans were made. According to this official, all this money is insured by the State. The Enterprise National Bank of Pittsburgh and the United States Fidelity and Trust Company of New York were associated as trustees with former State Senator W. H. Andrews and Francis J. Torrance, who, according to President Gwiner, were borrowers of the bank in the Santa Fe Central Railway Company, incorporated in New Mexico in 1887. The Enterprise of the corporation has never been marketed. This road was built by Messrs. Andrews and Torrance. Cashier Clarke was also a heavy investor in Mexican and New Mexico silver mining stocks, according to Mr. Gwiner. Former State Senator Andrews is a brother of Wesley R. Andrews, United States Senator. Penrose's private secretary and chairman of the Republican State Committee. At the last election Mr. Andrews was elected as delegate from New Mexico to Congress and it is said he aspires to be Senator from New Mexico. Clarke, who is admitted to Statehood. Although Mr. Andrews is now delegate from New Mexico he retained a residence here in apartments in the Hotel Schenley. Mr. Andrews arrived here yesterday, but refused to talk about the Enterprise. When advised of the statements made by the president of the Enterprise National Bank that the closing of the doors was due to the loaning of State money to politicians, Homer L. Castle, candidate for Supreme Court on the Prohibition ticket, who has been campaigning the State in company with W. H. Berry, Democratic candidate for State Treasurer, said: "I am sorry. The life of a good man is a terrible price to pay for what has gone on. We have been saying that these conditions existed, but we could not get behind the bank doors. Now a pistol shot has opened them and reveals paralyzing conditions. Nobody knows what will follow."

WOMAN'S GENTLE NATURE CALLS FOR GENTLE TREATMENT

Delicately formed and gently reared, women will find, in all the seasons of their lives, as maidens, wives, or mothers, that the one simple, wholesome remedy which acts gently and pleasantly and naturally, and which may be used with truly beneficial effects, under any conditions, when the system needs a laxative, is—Syrup of Figs. It is well known to be a simple combination of the laxative and carminative principles of plants with pleasant, aromatic liquids, which are agreeable and refreshing to the taste and acceptable to the system when its gentle cleansing is desired.

Many of the ills from which women suffer are of a transient nature and do not come from any organic trouble and it is pleasant to know that they yield so promptly to the beneficial effects of Syrup of Figs, but when anything more than a laxative is needed it is best to consult the family physician and to avoid the old-time cathartics and loudly advertised nostrums of the present day. When one needs only to remove the strain, the torpor, the congestion, or similar ills, which attend upon a constipated condition of the system, use the true and gentle remedy—Syrup of Figs—and enjoy freedom from the depression, the aches and pains, colds and headaches, which are due to inactivity of the bowels.

Only those who buy the genuine Syrup of Figs can hope to get its beneficial effects and as a guarantee of the excellence of the remedy the full name of the company—California Fig Syrup Co.—is printed on the front of every package and without it any preparation offered as Syrup of Figs is fraudulent and should be declined. To those who know the quality of this excellent laxative, the offer of any substitute, when Syrup of Figs is called for, is always resented by a transfer of patronage to some first-class drug establishment, where they do not recommend, nor sell false brands, nor imitation remedies. The genuine article may be bought of all reliable druggists everywhere at 50 cents per bottle.

Points Gun at Man's Head and Demands Sum of Money.

NEW YORK, October 19.—A tall, well-dressed, middle-aged man walked into the private office of Winfield Sully on Broadway yesterday, drew a revolver and pointing the weapon at the head of Mr. Sully, said: "I am going to collect that money."

Mr. Sully turned quickly. "Well talk it over," he said. The visitor sat down a moment and detectives who had been summoned by a clerk, disarmed the visitor, who said he was Edward Brown, 35 years of age, a broker of Hempstead, L. I.

"Sully owes me money, and I thought this was the only way to get it," he said to the detectives. Brown, a few years ago, owned a large country place opposite that of

FORTUNE IN BONDS STOLEN

Taken From a Safe in a Brooklyn Law Office.

NEW YORK, October 19.—Bonds of the People's Gas, Light and Coke Company of Buffalo, N. Y., representing a face value of $30,000, were stolen on Tuesday. It was learned early this morning from a safe in the law offices of Baldwin & Ward, 86 Lexington street, Brooklyn. Other bonds valued at $165,000 were left untouched. The bonds are the property of the old Eighth Ward Bank, which was merged into the Borough Bank, both of Brooklyn. Baldwin & Ward are attorneys for the latter institution and have charge of litigation for which the bank through H. H. Hoadley is involved. The police believe that the safe was opened by an expert.

TELLS OF CONFESSION.
NEW YORK, October 19.—Testimony alleging that Cyrus F. Judson confessed in 1902 to stealing collateral from Joseph H. Hoadley, was given in the Supreme Court yesterday by George W. Hoadley in the suit brought by William B. Franklin and George L. Scott against Joseph Hoadley, Joseph Leiter and Cyrus F. Judson.

CHICAGO, October 19.—The Inter-Ocean today says: "President B. P. Ripley of the Santa Fe road was surprised last night when told it had been reported that the failure of the Santa Fe to buy the new road in New Mexico had been productive of trouble in Pittsburgh. Mr. Ripley, who has been in the city for some time, said that the matter was dropped. I do not see how a Pittsburgh bank could be concerned in the matter. The bank has been using the money to build the road, hoping to be able to sell it at a profit. The road in question runs from Santa Fe to William, N. M., and is about 120 miles in length. W. H. Andrews of Pittsburgh, who is now a resident of New Orleans, is interested in the venture."

ISSUES CIRCULAR ABOUT SCHOOLS

The following circular has been issued by Superintendent McClymonds of the Oakland School Department:

1. J. W. Redway, author of the Advanced Course in Geography in use in the schools of California, will address the teachers in the Common School Assembly Hall on Friday, October 20, at 3 p. m. Principals will close the schools in order to afford ample time for all to be present at the hour of opening.

2. Miss Chapman, Supervisor of Nature study will meet any teachers desiring help in Nature work on Monday, from 3 to 4 p. m. in the basement room, corner of Jefferson and Twelfth streets, Oakland High School building.

3. I desire the principals of the various schools to carefully examine pupils' desks and see that they are sufficiently large to accommodate the larger pupils of the classes. There are, in nearly every class room, two or three pupils who are overgrown. These pupils should be provided with desks larger than the average, or an adjustable desk. Please give this matter your immediate attention.

4. By action of the Board of Education Monday evening the City Institute will be held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, December 27, 28 and 29. This Institute is to be held in conjunction with the California State Society of Teachers. Aki have cinged the Institute which will meet in Berkeley on the evening of December 26. The place and time for calling this Institute will be given later.

5. The second teachers' excursion will include a visit to some Oakland factories. Those wishing to take this excursion will meet at Twenty-third avenue station on Saturday, October 21, at 9:30 a. m. This will be a half day outing, returning at noon.

Respectfully,
J. W. McClymonds,
City Superintendent of Schools.

EDDIE SMITH DISCUSSES THE BRUTALITY AND FASCINATION OF FOOTBALL

ELIGIBLES ON FOOTBALL SQUAD

Names of California Men Who May Play Stanford Team.

BERKELEY, October 18.—Colonel Geo. C. Edwards, chairman of the faculty committee on student athletics, at the University of California, has just completed a list of fifty-two names, representing the Varsity football squad, eligible to play against Stanford under the intercollegiate agreement. The list includes eight freshmen who recently played in the recent intercollegiate football game, and whose work particularly distinguished them in the eyes of Coach Knibbs and Griffin. Under the terms of the intercollegiate agreement, these lists must be exchanged between the two colleges at least three weeks before the big varsity game. Stanford's list is expected next Saturday.

HERE THEY ARE:

The full list is as follows:

J. E. Allen, R. G. Ariett, J. W. Barnick, D. P. Boring, R. W. Bush, C. S. Cerr, C. Coth, A. J. Congan, C. Cunha, L. J. Duprey, D. C. Dutton, D. Dyer, R. H. Elliott, J. A. Forre, R. N. Foster, W. G. Gabriel, W. E. Gocher, L. D. Graham, P. N. Gray, H. Harris, P. M. Herriott, C. W. Harty, G. H. Helms, L. A. Henry, R. V. Jordan, A. C. Kendall, R. J. Kettle, W. H. Luce, R. O. Mead, J. F. S. Norther, C. A. O'Connor, C. Ollason, C. G. Osgood, J. C. Reinhardt, S. Richardson, A. F. Ross, J. D. Schaefer, H. F. Snell, F. O. Stanton, O. F. Svediger, D. F. Smith, W. E. Sperry, L. E. Stern, D. W. Stow, P. St. John, C. W. Taylor, W. K. Tuller, E. M. Twitchell, D. Watson, W. L. Wharton, J. C. Whitman and C. R. Zacharias.

TO PLAY INDIANS.

Twenty-five men including some of the freshmen who made good in the recent game with Stanford will go to Los Angeles to play in the game with the Indians at that place Saturday. The men who will make the trip are: G. M. Taylor, '08, and C. W. Harty, '07, centers; F. N. Gray, '08, and R. N. Foster, '07, and Stern, '08, guards; Edgar Stow, '08, and S. M. Richardson, '07, halfbacks; Capt. Jim Forre, tackle; R. V. Jordan, '08, R. W. Kettle, '08, R. H. Elliott, '08, and J. C. Coogan, ends; J. D. Schaefer, '08, and C. W. Whitman, '07, fullbacks; O. Svediger, '08, H. Mead, '07, W. M. Luce, '08, W. E. Gocher, '08, S. Cerr, '08, E. Taylor, '07, and C. Q. Stanton, '08, halfbacks; W. L. Wharton, '07, W. E. Sperry, and George Helms, '09, fullbacks.

HEAVY TEAM.

The team that will line up against the Indians will be the heaviest team the varsity has ever had. The team is expected to be a fast, tough bunch of players and may be able to score against the Varsity.

SOUTHERNERS CONFIDENT.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18.—The Sherman Indian football team which the Varsity plays in this city Saturday is the strongest bunch of youngsters ever turned out by the Sherman School. Coach Hempel, who formerly coached fast teams for Pomona College, says: "I have as fast a team at Sherman as I ever had at Pomona. When we meet Stanford and California here, there will be some fast football played."

Football men here could expect to see the Indians score against both of the northern teams and possibly win from them. From this it can be seen that great things are expected for the domination of white men's brains and Red-skin strength.

Joe Schneider will captain the Indians and play end. He is fast and strong and weighs 185. The other end will probably be Pat Kennedy, 160 pounds, who is said to be as good as Schneider. Crawford Coleman, 180 pounds, will probably be center. Lugo, 205, and Lugo, 175 pounds, respectively, will be the tackles; Charles Coleman, 180 pounds, and Mike Anderson, 180 pounds, will be the guards. The halfbacks will be chosen from Nease, the former star quarterback, Gen. Davis, 175 pounds, and Mike Anderson, 180 pounds. The fullbacks will probably be Dan Magee, who weighs 185. The quarterback will be either Bullock, 135 pounds, or Padilla, 135 pounds. The last two men are new at the game and it remains to be seen whether or not they can cope with the California men.

M'GOVERN HAS AN EASY FIGHT

PHILADELPHIA, October 18.—Tommy Murphy of New York was badly beaten by Terry McGovern last night at the National Athletic Club. It took McGovern only two minutes and two seconds to gain the victory. Murphy was so helpless before the blows of the former champion that the referee stepped in and saved Murphy from probable serious injury. The defeated man was game to the end. McGovern showed his old-time form, fighting hard and fast from the sound of the gong.

McGovern opened the round, swinging hard on Murphy's face and neck. He followed this with a hard blow to the body and then to the ear before Murphy could land. After that it was all McGovern. He landed at will. Murphy began mixing it up and got the worst of it. He was knocked down six times, and each time he came to his feet he would stagger.

McGovern stood over him and struck blow after blow. Finally Murphy became defenseless and the referee stepped in and ended the uneven contest. Murphy was carried to a corner in an almost unconscious condition.

The clubhouse was so crowded that hundreds of persons were turned away. Announcement was made that McGovern and Corbett had agreed to meet in a six-round bout at the club in a short time.

PHILADELPHIA O'BRIEN CONDITIONING HIMSELF FOR A GRILLING BATTLE

"PHILADELPHIA" JACK O'BRIEN.

"Philadelphia" Jack O'Brien is so confident that he will defeat Al Kaufmann when they meet at Woodward's on the 27th inst., that he is arranging for a contest to take place immediately after the affair with Kaufmann at Los Angeles. O'Brien said that he was sure he would defeat the local heavyweight champion, and his action in securing a match at the southern town shows that he has not been trifling when he assured his friends he could defeat Kaufmann.

Jack has never taken so much pains in his training for a long while. He has been in the habit of entering into those six-round affairs at Philadelphia on a day's notice, and without any preparation whatever. In fact, he has not trained carefully but for half a dozen fights in his life, and the coming encounter is one of the few for which he is conditioning himself. This is evidence of the respect he has for Billy Delaney's champion.

If O'Brien can render such a good account of himself in the contests in which he has figured out of shape, it is only reasonable to think he will be able to do much better with the excellent training he is undergoing.

The Philadelphian is working out at Mike Sheehan's place on the ocean beach, and he has Harry Foley and Joe Gorman as sparring partners. O'Brien secured Foley because he was familiar with Kaufmann's style of milling, but Harry saw so little of Al the night they entertained out at Woodward's that he is hardly expected to show the clever Jack much of his ring style.

Gorman supplies the rough work at O'Brien's camp, while Foley injects the speed into the Philadelphian's work. O'Brien punches the head off of Gorman each afternoon for the pleasure of his several visitors.

KAUFMANN AT CROLL'S.

Kaufmann is working over at Croll's Gardens, and is being assisted by Joe Kennedy, the stout gentleman who used to do the same turn for Jim Jeffries. Billy Delaney goes over to the Alameda training camp each day to see that his protegee is getting the proper attention.

Kaufmann looks the picture of good health, and he is in good enough condition to enter the ring at a moment's notice.

Al is confident he will win his coming contest with O'Brien, but all the same he is not neglecting his work in any way, as he expects to have some trouble on the 27th, and he wants to be in shape for it.

SULLIVAN AND GANS TO FIGHT

Last evening Morris Levy, manager of the Hayes Valley Athletic Club, signed up Joe Gans, the Baltimore lightweight boxer, and Mike Sullivan, for a twenty-round bout, which will take place at Woodward's Pavilion, on November 24. Gans seemed quite anxious for this match, and when asked if he would do 133 pounds at 3 o'clock for Sullivan, he said he would. This is rather strange, because when Gans fought Jimmy Britt last year he vowed that he would never again attempt such a low weight. He asked nothing about the terms of division of the purse, or the referee, when Levy asked him if he would consent to the match. He will leave Baltimore for San Francisco immediately in order to begin his training.

Alex Greggains received a telegram last night from Marvin Hart of Louisville, in which the champion says he is willing to meet the winner of the Kaufmann-O'Brien match. Greggains is now figuring on matching Kaufmann and Hart if he puts O'Brien away in good time. If Kaufmann falls in his contest with O'Brien he will not take up Hart's offer.

BIG STABLES FOR LOCAL TRACK

Harry Stover to Handle a Large Bunch of Horses Here.

Harry Stover will cut quite a swath this season. In addition to his own stable of eleven he will handle the stable of W. T. Anderson, consisting of Sun Mark, Lad, Mistful, Fortunatus and Lawful. Stover is also handling fifteen yearlings, so that he will come very close to having the biggest stable in California.

Henry Walker, who is now at Ascot Park, will ship here in the course of a day or two with Matador, Never Such, Miss Bettie, Hubbard and Lucian. The stable of Boneack is also due in a couple of days.

Dan Lamazany, who met with good luck on the Canadian circuit, is back in California with ten horses. He has Silurian, Christine A., Ink, Reeves, Henry Walte, Altopath, Last Rite, Sarnier, Jolly Wilch and six others.

Dr. J. Grant Lyman paid $10,000 for Geranium and Royalty recently. These two good horses, formerly owned by P. C. McDowell, will be included in Dr. Lyman's California shipment. Both will be entered extensively in stakes at San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Colonel A. W. Hamilton, who will preside in the judges' stand at Ascot Park, has gone to his home at Mount Sterling, Ky., to spend a few days prior to his departure for California.

Jockey W. Miller has ridden 108 winners to date this year. His four last Thursday places him second in the jockey ranks for the Belmont Park meeting. Knapp leads with fourteen winning mounts.

The statement is made by the New York Sun and other newspapers that the six winners of the Kentucky Derby, the Kentucky Oaks, the Preakness, the Belmont Stakes, the Santa Anita Derby and the Santa Anita Oaks, will be sent to California to race at Ascot Park. The horses are being sent to California by the California Jockey Club, which is the only one of its kind in the world. Harbor Hill is the name of Clarence H. Mackay's country home on Long Island. Secretary Ed Jasper of the Los Angeles Jockey Club left Chicago the other day for California.

Douglas H. Grand has arrived in New York with a fine importation of English-bred horses.

Jockey Willie Knapp is taking on flesh. His lightest riding weight nowadays is 102 pounds.

Pete Phillips will ride for Lee & Co. again this year.

William Hendrie's English-bred stallion Derwentwater is in bad shape at Walter O. Farmer's Edenwald Farm, near Nashville. The horse arrived at the farm last night from Ontario, Monday last, and was injured in shipping. He is suffering with strangulated hernia.

FRENCH CLUB DECLINES CUP

NEW YORK, October 18.—A letter is now on its way to the Vanderbilt cup commission from the Automobile Club of France and as soon as it is received the racing board of the American Automobile Association will hold its first meeting since the running of the Vanderbilt cup race. Baron Adrien de Turckheim, the official representative of the Automobile Club of France at the recent race, declared yesterday that the cup would not be accepted by the French club.

"The French club has already declined to promote another Gordon Bennett cup race," he said, "and it could not very well accept the Vanderbilt cup under the conditions of holding a race for that trophy in France next season."

Baron de Turckheim, who will sail for home to-day on La Savoie, intimated that the French club would offer suggestions regarding a future competition for the Vanderbilt cup.

"I would like to see it turned into a trophy for a big touring event," he added. "We have so many high class cars of acknowledged reliability that the mere fact of winning a big speed event counts comparatively for little."

How to Cure Corns and Bunions.

First, soak the corn or bunion in warm water to soften it; then pare it down as closely as possible without drawing blood and apply Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice daily, rubbing vigorously for five minutes at each application. A corn plaster should be worn a few days to protect it from the shoe. As a general remedy for sprains, bruises, lameness and rheumatism, Pain Balm is unequalled. TRIBUNE'S Expert Declares Despite Revision of Rules Game Will Always Remain Most Popular Amateur Game

BY EDDIE SMITH

This is the football season, and among the lovers of amateur sport football is playing the most important part. On the cars, in the cafes and even the died-in-the-wool sporting men are speculating on the outcome of the various games to be played in the near future.

President Roosevelt has created a furor among the football enthusiasts, by calling Walter Camp, John E. Onstey, J. W. Fine, A. R. Hildebrand, Edward H. Nichols and William T. Reid, who are considered the football representatives in the big colleges of the East, to the White House and asking them to try and revise the rules or live more strictly up to the present ones, so as to eliminate as much as possible the roughness of the game.

The question now arises, would football be as popular if the opposing eleven played with more care and the roughness eliminated to such an extent that there would be no such danger to the player as is today?

In my opinion, the game would lose a great deal of its fascination, for when everything is considered there can be no doubt but that it is the brutality of the game that really makes it so exciting and fascinating. It is surely not that it is more scientific than the other amateur sports, that require more speed and science to play, that they are compelled to take a back seat when football is in vogue.

BRUTES ARE HEROES?

After a big football game the greatest hero is the man who has either had the good fortune to make a long run with the ball or the one that has bucked and fought his way through the opposing line by brute strength and grit. And it would be impossible to do this without the danger of being injured or injuring some one else. This is the kind of sport that nine out of every ten men like to see, whether they admit it or not, it is a fact and is proven every day.

I had the good fortune of seeing a man known as "Steeple Jack" climb up and down the side of the Flatiron building in New York not long ago and he had an audience of some 3000 people who stood spell-bound in the street watching this remarkable feat, the excitement plainly visible on their faces. These people were not excited over anything else than the fact that this dare-devil might fall and be killed, and so it is with all such performances.

LIKE TO SEE DANGER.

It is the fact that the performer is facing danger that makes it exciting and fascinating. By this I do not wish to say that football players are facing death or anything of the kind, but it is a fact that he may be knocked senseless or his wind knocked out of him or in some way seriously injured that makes the game what it is, the most popular of college sports.

I have often observed that when a player in a game takes a desperate chance in trying to either get through the opposing line or run around it, that the men and women would clench their hands and hold their breath, and, with excitement in their eyes, wait until this certain player is on his feet and ready to continue before they have allowed themselves to relax and shout and clap with joy.

This will always exist as long as the young, vigorous athletes are playing the game, for as far back as we know, the most favored athlete has always been the one that used his brute strength and faced danger in the games.

SCORE MADE LOCAL ELEVEN IN TRIBUNE TOURNEY PLAYS FOR TITLE

The football teams of Oakland and Berkeley high schools will play on Friday afternoon at California field. The game will decide the championship of the Central League of the A. A. U. Both Oakland and Berkeley have defeated under-son's Academy, and played the games with Alameda. Since the Alameda game the Berkeley team has been strengthened by the addition of Peck, Solinsky and Morrill. These are the players whose blanks were forged before the Alameda game. There was quite a scandal about the matter, but neither Principal James or the A. A. U. officials took any action in the matter. It is expected that the game will be a close one, in spite of the addition to Berkeley's forward line.

The game will probably bring out a great crowd of football admirers to cheer for the teams. The last game between Oakland and Berkeley, which Oakland won, 6 to 0, had the largest crowd over at a prep school game.

GAME WON BY BERKELEY GIRL.

Miss Hazel Hotchkiss of Berkeley won the bay counties' championship on the tennis courts in Golden Gate Park yesterday, and consequently will hold the Ruben H. Lloyd challenge cup until the tournament is held next year.

In the final match, Miss Hotchkiss was opposed to Mrs. C. Watson of the Ladies' Annex Club, and won, 6-2, 6-2. The latter played as well as could be expected under the circumstances. She did not put up the game that she did in the early rounds of the tournament, but this was no doubt due to the fact that she was up against a more experienced player than any she met on the opening day.

HERE'S WHAT MR. NOLAN SAYS

Manager of Nelson Makes Bold Charge Against Jeff.

KANSAS CITY, October 18.—Batting Nelson and Billy Nolan are in Kansas City. The Batting opened a week's engagement Sunday at one of the theaters, in which he is sparring at each performance with Bob Lundie.

"I have just left the Coast, where I have been busy entertaining out there since the Britt fight," said Nolan today. "A good deal of this time has been spent in the local squabble over the outcome of the fight, in which I have finally been successful. Another thing that has taken my mind has been the agitation caused by this Harry Corbett affair, in which an attempt was made to hold me up for $1000. I have been very harshly criticized for my action in the matter, but I have only acted in self-defense."

ABOUT JEFFRIES.

"Another matter in which I have been criticised was my refusal to allow Jeffries to move the fight. In spite of his past good record, I believe that had he been the third man in the ring Nelson would have lost. Why? Well, you know, a number of men have been hanged on circumstantial evidence, and it is on that ground that I lay my claim. After the fight Gransy himself told me that there had been a plot to rob Nelson."

"I would prefer Nelson to meet some one whom he has never fought before. He fights Britt again, and the fight is on that ground that I lay my claim. After the fight Gransy himself told me that there had been a plot to rob Nelson."

"I would prefer Nelson to meet some one whom he has never fought before. He fights Britt again, and the fight is on that ground that I lay my claim. After the fight Gransy himself told me that there had been a plot to rob Nelson."

BRITT'S OFFER.

DENVER, Colo., October 18.—Jimmy Britt posted today with Otto Floto, a sporting writer, a check for $1000 as a forfeit for a return fight with Bettington Nelson. Britt said:

"I will let him name the terms. He can select the referee. He can name the amount of the side bet. He can name the number of rounds. In short, it's up to him. I have not failed to give Nelson credit for his victory over me. Not that I think he is the better man, but because he won, and to the victor goes the spoils."

WHAT HAPPENED.

"I don't want to offer any excuses, but anyone who sees the pictures will discern that I happened to be in a corner against the ropes when the fatal blow was delivered. You will see Nelson with his head down, having no more idea where his body is going to land than he has of flying."

"He happened to land. He has been proclaiming that I was afraid to meet him. I am going further with him than I ever went in negotiating with an opponent before and think it no egotism when I say that I am entitled to at least an entitled to some recognition."

The game of baseball played yesterday at Recreation Park between Seattle and Oakland resulted in a victory for Seattle by a score of 3 to 1. In the first inning Oakland got one run, but after that was unable to score a point. The run in the first inning was made by Van Halten, who beat a bunt, went all the way to third on a sacrifice, and then scored. It was not until the seventh inning that Seattle scored. The other two points were made in the eighth inning, when Bennett singled to left field, stole second, and scored on Kane's double. Kane went on Kelly's error to third, and registered on Devereaux's wild throw of Ike Walters' hit. The following is the score:

Students' Loss to Be Settled by Checks.

BERKELEY, October 19.—Colonel Edwards has issued the following communication to the students of the University.

"From Judge Garber and Frank M. Wilson—as an expression of their good will toward the students of the University who fought the bill for so effectively on the 8th inst.—$100 came into the hands of President Wheeler. The money was by him transferred to the Executive Committee of the Associated Students with the recommendation that it be used as far as it would go, in repaying students E. Swain, and others for which they had themselves paid."

"The Executive Committee accepted the money, and instructed the undersigned to carry out the recommendations of the President."

"While the students fought the fire without any thought of recompense it seems desirable that any destruction of clothing or repairs made necessary as a consequence of the fire fighting should be repaid so that some idea of the loss may be gained."

"Communications will be received until Tuesday, the 24th at 4 p. m. As far as possible put the bill in the form of a voucher."
